Khrushchev: Soviet Still Wants Summit Meet

Tripoli Power Plant Blown Up By Rebels

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Heavy fighting erupted in Tripoli Saturday after rebels blew up a big electric power station and dynamited the water main supplying the port district.

It climaxed 48 hours of the worst outbreak of shooting and violence in that northern port city since the rebellion broke out 64 days ago.

Coal Mine Roof Collapses, Killing Three Miners

BRICEVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A coal mine roof collapsed without warning near this Cumberland Mountain Community in East Tennessee Saturday, killing three men. Three others who suffered injuries were able to walk out.

State and county officers, aided by volunteers, recovered all three bodies with the aid of search lights in the underground cavern.

The victims were Columbus Parks, about 55, his brother Luke, about 52, and Hillery (Donner) Olvey, about 48.

The three dead and the three injured, treated at a LaFollette, Tenn., hospital, all were from Lake City, Tenn. The injured were Luke Wright, Dowell Williams and Oscar Harris.

"We were just taking a break," Williams said. "Just standing around shooting the breeze. It felt without any warning or noise."

"This is my first and last day inside that mine," Williams added, explaining he had quit coal mining in 1954, working at other jobs until Saturday.

Report Adams Will Quit Post About Labor Day

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit News said Saturday top-ranking Republican sources have disclosed that Sherman Adams plans to quit his White House post over the Labor Day weekend.

In Washington, efforts to reach Adams or White House press secretary James C. Hagerty were unsuccessful.

The paper said in a copyrighted story from its Washington bureau that Adams, President Eisenhower's top aide, is seeking a way of making a graceful exit.

Many Republicans contend Adams has outlived his usefulness because of disclosures of his association with industrialist Bernard Goldfine, the paper said, adding that these Republicans "want the presidential assistant removed from the area of controversy as long before the Nov. 4 elections as possible."

The paper said that White House advisers argue that to quit while Congress is in session would "open the door to a deluge of castigations from Democratic senators and congressmen."

Congress may adjourn as early as Aug. 16 but it could run through Aug. 30, the eve of the Labor Day weekend.

The paper did not further identify its source. It said that details of the separation are still to be worked out by the White House staff. The decision to quit is Adams' own, not the President's, the paper reported.

Stevenson, Sons Arrive In Former Capital Of Russia

LENINGRAD (AP) — Adlai Stevenson arrived in this pre-revolutionary capital of Russia from Helsinki Saturday night on what he termed a "stop — look — and listen" tour of the Soviet Union.

"I'm going to do as little talking as possible. I have to learn as much as I can of the life and work of the Soviet people," Stevenson said. "It is important for the peace of the world that we understand each other."

Stevenson, two of his sons and party of American friends, are on a four-week visit to Russia that is expected to cover Central Asia, the Volga, Siberia and a glimpse at the normally closed cities of Novosibirsk in Siberia, and Sverdlovsk in the Ural.

Stevenson also plans to raise with Soviet officials the touchy question of royalties for American authors and dramatists whose work has been published here without compensation.

Bury World's Fattest Man

Use Mechanical Brickyard Hoist To Lower Huge Coffin Into Grave

BENVILLE, Ill. (AP) — The world's fattest man was buried Saturday after a mechanical brickyard hoist was used to swing his huge, specially built coffin into the grave.

The funeral for 1,041-pound Robert Earl Hughes was held in a tent at Bensville Cemetery because the man's size prevented church or mortuary services.

The Rev. Cale Manley of Fishhook preached the funeral sermon, "The Blessed Man." There were no pallbearers for the 85 x 52 x 34 inch casket, which was trucked from Bensville Funeral Chapel at Mt. Sterling to a reinforced truck trailer parked outside a Bensville, Ind., hospital.

The funeral home attraction was being treated in this "special home" for uremia, heart trouble and measles because he was too large to enter the hospital.

The Bensville country churchyard and cemetery were filled with the largest crowd ever congregated for any occasion. State police and sheriff's deputies worked to untangle one of the largest traffic jams recorded on the main highway. About 750 cars lined the gravel road on both sides about two miles in either direction.

Hughes was normal when born in Kenton, Mo., but suffered a thyroid disturbance after a seizure of whooping cough when he was six months old. He weighed 210 pounds when he entered first grade, 375 when he was 10 and 598 when he graduated from grade school, where his desk and chair had been sturdily reinforced.

He tried dieting several times, but it didn't work. His weight was tapering off, however, and he gained only 25 pounds in the last two years.

The night parade will wind up with show in Soldier Field. Proceeds from admission ticket sales will go toward maintenance of the Shrine's 17 hospitals which provide 1,040 beds and free treatment for crippled children.

No 'Free Gate' At State Fair This Year: Peak

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — With a few minor exceptions, all Illinois state fairs this year will have to pay admission.

Neither newsmen, government officials nor visiting dignitaries, previously admitted free, are free from the 50-cent charge this year, fair manager J. Ralph Peak said Saturday.

Under a 1957 law, only children under 12 may enter the fair without charge. However, veterans and their families will be admitted free on Veterans Day and state employees actually working at the fair will have a non-transferable pass.

Peak said the new procedure will bring added revenue to the fair and avoid discrimination under the "free gate" policy used in previous years, he said, a person entering a few minutes later would have to pay.

Admission charges will be 50 cents plus 50 cents for each vehicle. A $2.50 season pass will admit one person for the duration of the fair and a car admission season sticker, also $2.50, will admit the vehicle.

The fair will run from Aug. 8 through 17.

Hughes was an affable man who genuinely liked people. He was an enthusiastic amateur photographer and was fond of all TV programs, particularly the comics and westerns. Many people in the Jacksonville area knew him. In fact, he was scarcely known outside of the Fishhook area until about 12 years ago when he boarded the bed of a pickup truck and was taken to the annual homecoming in Meredosia, where he was weighed in at slightly more than 700 pounds on the elevator scales.

Turk, Greek Cypriots, Join Britain In Plea To End Strife

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — British Gov. Sir Hugh Foot and leaders of Cyprus' Greek and Turkish communities issued an unprecedented joint appeal Saturday for an end to factional strife on this troubled island.

But even as their plea was broadcast over the government radio, the death toll from violence mounted. It stood at 15 Turkish Cypriot and 28 Greek lives since the latest rash of outbreaks began June 7.

Shriners Gather In Chicago For Imperial Council

CHICAGO (AP) — The vanguard of an expected 100,000 fest-wearing Shriners poured in on Chicago Saturday.

A special ceremony and reception for imperial officers and visiting potentates opened the six-day 84th Imperial Council session.

Gen. James W. Hilton, potentate of Chicago's 22,000 Shriners, officially welcomed the first registrants at convention headquarters.

The broadcast appeal said that "We join the governor in calling on everyone in Cyprus to stop violence between Greeks and Turks at once. If this goes on, there is no end to the suffering it may bring. Let the bloodshed cease here and now."

This is the first time in the island's recent history that such a joint appeal has been broadcast. At issue is the future of this British crown colony. The 400,000 Greek Cypriots want union with Greece. The 100,000 Turkish Cypriots want partition to protect their minority position.

Britain has offered to share in administration of the island for the next seven years with Greece and Turkey, but neither would accept.

ALL SET FOR BIG 'SNACK' PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "I was just going home to fix a snack," Wainwright McJeters told police at dawn Saturday when they stopped him for passing a red light.

Inside the car were 60 lemons, 20 pounds of ham, 100 pounds of sugar, 12 pounds of coffee, 15 pounds of assorted cuts of beef, 144 eggs, 100 pounds of potatoes and 20 pounds of macaroni.

McJeters finally told police he was a cook at the Philadelphia longed there.

He was jailed on a charge of burglary and receiving stolen goods.

THREAT FOR THIEF LONDON (AP) — Somebody who stole a bicycle outside a London pet shop Saturday is in for a surprise. When he opens the carrier bag strapped on the back of the bike he'll find two four-foot pythons.

Continues To Reject Discussions On Disarm Controls, Red Satellites

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev said Saturday the Soviet Union still wants a summit conference and declared one will be held, "if not with present leaders, then with their successors."

But the Soviet Premier, emphasizing his points with stabs of his stubby finger, again rejected two points the West insists on discussion at such a conference — disarmament controls and Russia's satellite nations.

"We will speak about controls when there is complete trust," he declared, indicating such trust between East and West might be a long time arriving.

"It would be better not to meet" if the West keeps on insisting that one of the subjects be the satellite countries, he said.

Khrushchev, just back from a visit to East Germany, addressed a "friendship" meeting in honor of Czechoslovak President Antonin Novotny who is a visitor in Moscow.

"Don't poke your nose into other peoples' affairs," was Khrushchev's advice to the Western powers intent on taking up the status of the satellite nations.

Lightning Kills Three Children

NEW YORK (AP) — Lightning struck a tree in Queens Saturday and killed three out of seven children huddling under it to escape a downpour.

The four other children were knocked down by the bolt but were not seriously hurt. The three killed, police said, had been touching the tree when the lightning struck.

Dead were Bruce Barrett, 14, of Queens, Pat Medina, of Brooklyn, and James Quinn, 14, of Queens. The children were in a larger group playing on a field in Forest Park, Woodhams, Queens, when the storm broke.

As it began to pour, 10 children took refuge under the tree. For some reason three left the spot before the lightning bolt hit the tree.

Halt Search For Nose Cone Of Rocket Carrying Mouse

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The hunt was abandoned Saturday for Laska, the tiny white mouse known to have lived through at least part of a 12,000-mile-an-hour journey through space.

Sixty hours after Laska was hurled aloft Wednesday night by a mighty Thor-Able rocket, the Air Force announced it had stopped the search for the mushroom-shaped nose cone in which she traveled.

Earlier, the Air Force had said the nose cone reached its Atlantic Ocean target area 6,000 miles away, near Ascension Island off the coast of Africa. It was the first intercontinental range flight by a U.S. ballistic missile.

Ships and planes searched the area for 2½ days, hoping to recover the cone and see how it and its passenger had fared in the plunge from space through the dense atmosphere encompassing the earth.

Capt. E. M. Griffith, Thor-Able project officer, told newsmen in an interview Saturday that Laska was known to be alive 22 minutes after the rocket blasted off.

Laska got her name from the tag number she wore when picked for the test. The number 49 coincided with the initial approval of Alaska as the 49th state.

Before her real name was announced for the first time today, the mouse had been called "MIA" (Continued On Page Nine)

Angry Ex-Miner, 74, Shoots Up Tavern, Kills Woman, Self

SANDPOINT, Idaho (AP) — An elderly ex-miner who claimed he was short-changed for a beer flew into a rage Friday night, went home for a pistol and came back to shoot up the tavern.

Police said Emil Olkonen, 74, killed Mrs. Ruby Tanner, 66, as she sat at the bar; shot point blank at the bartender, hitting him in the neck; fired at and winged a fleeing customer, then shot twice at his own wife.

Olkonen, his pistol empty, walked out the door and drove three blocks home. The tavern was in an uproar after about 10 customers, almost too stunned to move, at first, realized what happened. Police arrived and called for reinforcements from as far as 80 miles away.

The berserk gunman had holed up in his modest frame home and put away the pistol for a rifle. Police surrounded the place in the dark and used a loudspeaker to call for his surrender. Just then, a car drove up and the headlights made a perfect target of Police Chief George F. Elliott, 36.

Olkonen fired twice, the first bullet bouncing off the ground and striking Elliott in the chest and arm.

With the neighborhood terrified, officers opened up and fired some 30 shots at intervals for the next three hours. It developed they were shooting all along at a dead man. Olkonen's second shot long before was suicide.

Police said Olkonen went into the City Club tavern, ordered a beer and got change for a dollar. He argued he gave the bartender, Robert Hunter, $5. Mrs. Tanner, Hunter's mother, finally took change for $3 from her purse, gave it to Olkonen, and told him to leave. He did, but he soon came back.

His first shot killed Mrs. Tanner. Hunter, standing scarcely five feet away, shouted "Get out." Olkonen fired point blank and missed, then fired again and Hunter went down with a bullet wound in the neck.

Bud McMurtrey, a customer at the end of the bar, raced for an exit and was winged in the back. Olkonen's wife, with whom he had been quarreling, was the next target. Two bullets whizzed by her head but missed. The siege at the house followed.

Hunter and his wife were celebrating their 20th wedding anniversary and Mrs. Tanner had just finished party cake and ice cream. At first, some customers thought the shots were blanks, part of the celebration.

None of the wounded was believed seriously hurt. Coroner L. G. Moon called a coroner's inquest for Monday night.

"How could one propose that the Communists should agree to discuss with the capitalists how to liquidate socialist order in a given state?" he asked. "If such questions were to be discussed, it would be better not to meet because the Soviet attitude would not change."

Disarmament inspection controls, before there is confidence between East and West, he declared, "would no longer be control, but intelligence work aimed at finding out the weak points of the enemy in order to begin aggression."

"When we see nothing is planned against our country and those of the Socialist camp, we'll be ready to open our doors," he said but until then "we don't let any outside persons into our sanctuary."

U.S. Willing To Make Reasonable Deal For Release Of 9 Airmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Saturday held open the door to a reasonable deal with the Soviet Union and East Germany for the release of nine U.S. airmen held in East Germany since early last month.

But State Department officials said the U.S. government has no intention of ransom the men with virtual recognition of East Germany. That is what the East Germans and the Russians are seeking.

The price is far too high, in the State Department's view, because if paid it would not only hurt U.S. prestige but upset American relations with West Germany and possibly endanger the vitally important position of the Western powers in Berlin.

Such considerations make it certain that if the Reds do not back down, the dispute over the nine men will be prolonged and increasingly bitter and may cause a general worsening of U.S.-Soviet relations.

Moscow was put on notice late Friday that the United States fears the dispute will grow into a first class row. At the same time, Washington said it is ready to meet any "normal and reasonable requirements" which the Reds may specify for having the men returned to West Germany.

They fell into Communist hands June 7 when their helicopter lost its way during a thunderstorm.

U.S. views on the issue were given to Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov by Deputy Under Secretary of State Robert Murphy (Continued On Page Nine)

Officials at the U.S. Navy Base here were growing increasingly irritated at the delay in the return of the Marines and sailors. Only one of them has been freed so far. Twenty other captives, U.S. and Canadian civilians, have been released.

William took off after a conference in Havana with C. Allan Stewart, deputy director of the State Department's Middle Eastern Affairs Division.

William and his dungaree-clad vice consul, Robert Wiecha, have been negotiating with Fidel Castro's brother Raul in the mountain village of Calabazas-Pumpkinville.

Sitting in on the talks with Raul, who wears his hair in the style of Indian fighter Gen. George Custer, is Raul's pretty, U.S.-educated secretary who acts as translator. Raul is assisted in the talks by one of his lieutenants, Armando Torree Mesones, known also as El Frances because he attended the Sorbonne in Paris. El Frances keeps a tommygun slung over his shoulder.

Centennial Committees Make Final Arrangements For Chapin Celebration

CHAPIN—A general meeting of the Centennial committees for the Chapin Centennial was held Monday evening at the American Legion Home with Deneen Brewer presiding.

Those present were Deneen Brewer, Donald Kolberer, Jeanne Tieman, Sandra Audenkamp, Marian Lakamp, Odell Woodward, Warren Lakamp, Emilie Fricke, Miller Ober, William Vanier, Mrs. L. Shepard, Margaret Smith, Martha Allen, Mrs. William Surra, Sr.

Warren Lakamp, parade chairman, reported that he has distributed entry blanks for the parade. Entries are to be in by July 25. The group agreed to have non-local judges for the parade.

A suggestion was made that Jim Wallace, a former resident, be asked to be grand marshal for the parade.

Helen Dickens, pet parade chairman, resigned from the committee because of illness. Mrs. Dickens has given much time and work toward the preparations for the pet parade and the Little King and Queen contest. Plans are underway for a successful event. Mrs. Dickens is being replaced by Virginia Werries.

Donald Kolberer, food chairman, reported that his committee has everything in order except for making arrangements for the beef for the soup. A motion was made and carried that the group buy the beef from Chapin Locker Co. It was decided to have kettle service as well as table service.

Mrs. Martha Allen, chairman of special exhibits, reported that the flower show will be held in the Norstrup building.

Odell Woodward, properties chairman, reported that the following committee has cut the wood to be used for cooking of the soup: Odell Woodward, Warren Smith, August Meier, Sam Grant, Charles Hymes, Owen Hymes, Charles White, Delbert Audenkamp, Byron Wilker, Albert Swagmeyer, Warren Lakamp, Fred Lakamp and Charles Audenkamp.

Marian Lakamp, chairman of the Miss Centennial Contest, reported that eleven girls will be in the contest. The posters and containers have been placed in business houses and the contest is now in progress. Voting will be on the basis of a penny a vote.

Emilie Fricke, pageant chairman, reported that she has contacted many former teachers to be in the pageant.

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Brannan of 936 North Prairie street will observe their 47th wedding anniversary Tuesday, July 15. They moved to Jacksonville several months ago from New Berlin where they had resided a short while.

WED 47 YEARS JULY 15

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Brannan

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Brannan of 936 North Prairie street will observe their 47th wedding anniversary Tuesday, July 15. They moved to Jacksonville several months ago from New Berlin where they had resided a short while.

Mrs. Brannan is the former Elsie B. Kent of Maroa. They were married by the late Rev. George W. Flagg at Clinton, Illinois, where Mr. Brannan taught violin and orchestral instruments.

Mrs. Brannan was secretary to the pastor of the Maroa Presbyterian church and piano accompanist at the church before her marriage. Mr. Brannan is a graduate of Lincoln, Illinois College and Wesleyan University, Bloomington. For two years he studied under Hugo Kortschak, Chicago Musical College.

They are the parents of two children, Norman, at Veteran's Hospital in this city, who visits weekends with his parents, and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Helen Collins and one granddaughter and two great grandchildren, the latter all residents of Decatur.

The Brannans lived 18 years at Springfield where Mr. Brannan taught in schools there. He is a charter member of the Springfield Symphony orchestra. They are members of the First Methodist church in Springfield. Moving from Springfield to Mason City the couple lived in that location for 15 years where Mr. Brannan was a salesman for International Harvester Company.

Nita Ford Of Carrollton At Piano Workshop

CARROLLTON—Miss Nita Ford, local music teacher, is attending a Piano Workshop this week at the Kingsway Hotel in St. Louis.

The Workshop is being conducted by George Anson, the head of the Music Department at the Texas Wesleyan University at Fort Worth, Texas.

Attends Brother's Rites
Mrs. Gregg Fuller went to St. Louis Wednesday where she attended the funeral of her brother-in-law, Edward Parker, 48, who had died suddenly at his home.

Mrs. Fuller was accompanied home by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fuller of Clinton, Indiana, who were overnight guests at her home.

Evangelistic Services
The Rev. Glenn Manis, pastor of the Carrollton Baptist church, will go to New Washington, Indiana, Monday where he will conduct evangelistic services in the Baptist church there returning here July 25.

On the Sunday, July 20, that the Rev. Manis will be absent from the pulpit of the local church, the guest speaker will be the Rev. Carl Moman pastor of the Baptist church in Joplin.

Brief News Notes
Miss Gilda Robley of Chicago will spend next week here with her mother, Mrs. Arthur Robley Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. McAdams and daughters of Williamsville, N. Y., arrived this week and are guests of relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Vedder and children of Toledo, Ohio, will arrive Monday to visit Vedder's mother, Mrs. N. D. Vedder Sr. They will also visit in Kansas City before returning home.

The members of the BYF of the Carrollton Baptist church will go to Jacksonville Sunday at 2 p.m. where they will spend the remainder of the afternoon and evening at Nichols Park. There will be a Vesper service Sunday evening which will be in charge of Miss Diane Journey. Ronnie Carter is in charge of transportation for the trip.

AT NATIONAL GUARD AIR BASE

Seven Jacksonville men went to Phelps-Collins Air National Guard Base, Alpena, Mich., to participate in Visitors' Day on Friday, July 11, where the Illinois National Guard is engaged in two weeks summer field training. The group (left to right) is shown as it arrived at the Air Base: Capt. E. W. Chumley of Jacksonville, who extended welcome to the visitors; Mayor Robert DuBois, Phil Clary, Glenn Heidinger, Birch B. Ridgway, Carl Ore, Rollyn Trotter, A. G. Damrau.

Invited by officers of the 170th Fighter Interceptor Squadron, Illinois Air National Guard, to visit the summer training center, the Jacksonville group left Capital Airport at Springfield early Friday morning, and returned at 11 p.m.

Jacksonville airmen in training at the Michigan Air Base are Capt. E. W. Chumley, S-Sgt. James Newport, A-2c Bernard W. Smith, A-3c Glenn F. Alcorn, and A-3c Steve E. Hills.

Construction

On New Hospital Wing Progresses

PITTSFIELD — Construction work on the new addition to Illinois hospital is progressing rapidly and it is hoped that fifty additional beds will be available for occupancy early in the spring. Present facilities have been crowded for quite some time and the community is looking forward to having ample room for the needs of local patients.

Pike County has been allotted $8,892 as its share of the motor fuel tax paid into the state treasury during the month of June.

ways for the maintenance and construction on county roads. Mrs. Delbert Ervin and son, D. J., are guests of her mother, Mrs. Emmett Sneed, and her sisters, Mrs. Gladys Basset and Mrs. Lucille Williamson. Mr. Ervin, a lieutenant colonel in the Air Force, is stationed at Shreveport, La., where the family makes their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Harpole have been guests of his sister, Mrs. Charles Shaw, this week. They are residents of Lakeland, Fla.

Mrs. Gus Boehler of O'Fallon, Ill., was here during the week visiting friends and former neighbors, and to attend the funeral services for Mrs. Otis Healey, her lifelong friend. Mrs. Boehler is the former Mrs. Edwin Johnston.

Attend WSCS Seminar In Pike

MURRAYVILLE—Mrs. Arthur Wilson, Mrs. Norman E. Marshall, Mrs. Robert E. Match and Mrs. Fred Simpson attended the Women's Society of Christian Service Seminar meeting at Pittsfield Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Frost of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., were Monday through Wednesday guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Fitzsimmons and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl S. Blakeman were weekend guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Yates and family at Preston, Mo.

Mrs. Lena Meredith of Springfield spent Wednesday with her sister, Mrs. Lillie Bracewell and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peccolo and family of Wray, Colo., came Tuesday for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Mehrhoff and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Blumling.

Mrs. Williams Walker and grandson, Johnnie Verhey of Lafayette, Ind., Mrs. Elsie Midden-dorf of Jacksonville and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walker were Saturday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Walker and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hanback accompanied their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Hanback and Bobby of Joliet to Blythesville, Ark., last weekend where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Boserker and daughters.

Ernest Millon and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Millon attended funeral services for the former's brother, Ira Millon, in Jacksonville Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Fitzsimmons spent last Sunday with their brother-in-law, John Robertson, at Rockport. Their daughter, Nita Rose, returned home with them after spending a weekend in the Robertson home.

Information please: The chief difference between regular (all-purpose) flour and cake flour is that the former contains more gluten. Gluten is the elastic sticky substance in flour that helps to give baked products such as bread their resilient porous structure. Cake flour helps make tender cakes and muffins.

The hours for the Tea were from seven to nine o'clock. Purple and white, lodge colors, were used in table appointments. A large purple ball with a gold '50' was flanked with white glads and tapers. Fruit punch and cookies were served by Theresa Walton, Maude Large, Twyla Votsmier and Irene Garner.

Cards were signed to be sent to those unable to be present and gifts were presented to the honored members.

Mrs. Murphy read a poem dedicated to the honored members in which mention was made of each. Mrs. Murphy's daughter, Sharon, entertained with a vocal number.

Paul Newman, as "Ben Quick," and Joanne Woodward, as "Clara," appear in key scene from the Jerry Wald production of William Faulkner's "The Long, Hot Summer," the story of the effect upon an entire community and one family in particular of a ruthless, strong man. Filmed in Cinemascope and color. Starts tonight for 3 days at 67 Drive-In Theatre. Companion feature, "Ride A Violent Mile."

Utah Family Visits Relatives At Nortonville

NORTONVILLE—Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Brummett and family of Salt Lake City, Utah, and her sister, Mrs. Pauline Hart of Woodson called on their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Van Seymour Monday evening. Miss Hart plans to return home with the Brummetts.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Wells and family and Sue, Mary and Lela Starnes enjoyed a hamburger fry at the Franklin Outing Club Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Orris and son visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Orris at Woodson Sunday evening.

Harold Wells and son Dale of Rock Island visited over the weekend with his brother and family, the Lowell Wells.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hamilton called on Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foster of Waverly Sunday evening.

Edgar Jones of Springfield called on his uncle, Elmer Jones and cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Seymour and Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Wells Saturday afternoon.

4-H Club Activities

The Ebenezer 4-H club met July 9 at the Ebenezer Church. Sherry Houston presided during the business session. Items taken up by the group included Fair tickets, the Queen Contest and the Bake Sale.

The older girls in cooking made a menu that each had planned and served. The first year girls in cooking told of all foods that each had prepared.

All garments made in the clothing project were modeled in the style show.

Foods were judged by Mrs. John Oliver, former home adviser.

Special numbers were presented by Brenda Mallenat, a piano solo and Sheryl Freeman and Jane Hadden, a musical novelty number, "You All Come."

Mrs. Sandidge, Mrs. Houston announced the girls in the dress revue and Connie Houston was the accompanist.

The next meeting will be held during the month of August.

THEATER MONTH SET

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 4,000 community theaters in the United States have been invited to participate in celebrating November as National Community Theater Month.

Main purposes of the project are to recognize the work of local dramatic organizations, and to assist them in widening the scope of activities.

Initiated by a magazine (Theatre Arts), the sponsoring committee has Vice President Richard Nixon as an honorary member and includes Ralph Bellamy, president of Actor's Equity; Henry Fonda, Cyril Richard, Fredric March, Celeste Holm and Eva Le Gallienne.

The Bankers' Bowling League in Salt Lake City becomes the Bankers' Amateur Golf League when the weather turns nice.

TAB IS THE HUNTER—AND THE HUNTED

A violent father (Van Heflin, right) a maverick son (Tab Hunter, center) and a second son who rejects them both (James Darren) provide the conflict in Columbia Pictures' explosive CinemaScope-Technicolor production, "Gunman's Walk." Kathryn Grant also stars. Starts next Sunday at the FOX ILLINOIS THEATRE.

Joseph Martin To Celebrate 92nd Birthday

ROODHOUSE — Joseph Martin, father of the late Floyd Martin, will celebrate his 92nd birthday anniversary at his home at 102 Jere Whitson Road, Cookeville, Tenn. Mr. Martin, formerly of Roodhouse, is a retired carpenter and contractor and is in good health, according to a letter received by his only granddaughter, Miss Sarah Lu Martin of this city. Mr. Martin, a life-long Republican, has the distinction of being the son of a Civil War Confederate veteran; his father-in-law was a Union veteran and his grandfather was a Revolutionary War veteran. The anniversary will be celebrated on July 22.

Accepts Pastorate
Rev. Marvin Jeffers, who has been on vacation from his duties as pastor of the local Christian church, has accepted a call to the Christian church at St. Elmo, and will move there with his wife in two weeks.

Youth Injured
Terry Fry, grandson of Mrs. Nona Fry, with whom he resides, was taken to Passavant hospital, Tuesday evening, following injuries incurred during a practice baseball game at the city park. Young Fry was hit accidentally by a pitched ball which struck him in the forehead. He was brought home Wednesday.

Breaks Hip
Mrs. Eola Lenning, formerly of Roodhouse, suffered a fracture of the hip in a fall at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Langley, Patterson Bay, near Mercedia, with whom she makes her home. The accident occurred on Tuesday. She is a patient at the Passavant hospital, Jacksonville.

Roodhouse Notes
Miss Lucy Ash, Alton, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Nettie Story, and other relatives. Sheila Wahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fairley Wahl, is visiting in the home of her uncle, Harold Wahl, and family, Peoria. Mrs. E. O. Latimer, Evanston, and Mrs. J. C. Bolter, Peoria, have returned home after a visit in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dee K. Neal. En route home, they stopped for a visit with their brother, Bob Neal, and family, Decatur.

Frank Davidson, Edwardsville, former Roodhouse business man, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Hopkins. A group of friends met at the Hopkins home Wednesday evening for a visit with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rees and son, Bill, have returned to their home in Brookfield, after a visit in the home of her mother, Mrs. Nettie Story.

Mrs. Frieda Navins has returned home from a visit in Ottawa. On Thursday, Mrs. Navins and mother, Mrs. Julia Arnold, drove to Girard for a family reunion.

Terry Woodward, Jacksonville, is visiting in the home of his aunt, Mrs. Eugene Kirgan, and husband, Maj. and Mrs. Hal Worcester, are spending a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Worcester. Their son, Bill, who has made an extended visit here, will return home with them to Ft. Smith, Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Johnisse and family, York, Pa., are visiting his mother, Mrs. Mae Johnisse.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH OFFICERS, TEACHERS TO MEET IN GREENE

ROODHOUSE—Kenneth Jackson, superintendent of the Christian Church Sunday School, announces that the monthly meeting of the teachers and officers will be held in the church parlors Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Wm. H. Battershell, who is home on vacation from his teaching duties at Canton, will speak on "Christian Literature."

Plan Taylor Reunion
Descendants of the late Walter, Al and Preston Taylor, will hold a reunion at Nichols Park, Sunday, July 20. A basket dinner will be held at noon. Officers are: president, Mary Taylor; vice president, Eugene Adams, Sr.; secretary, Judy Taylor.

LAST-MINUTE CATCH
DURANT, Okla. (AP)—Leonard Smith and Lon Booth fished all day at Lake Texoma with very little luck.

On the way to the dock, Lon let his plug trail along in the water behind the boat. He hooked a 21-pound bass.

McCullough And Fargo Nuptial Vows Pledged At Neelyville Lutheran Church

BLUFFS—The Neelyville Trinity Lutheran Church was the scene of the beautiful and impressive double ring wedding ceremony uniting Miss Yvonne E. Fargo and W. Van McCullough Sunday afternoon, June 29, at 4:30 o'clock.

The altar was adorned with matching white vases with white flowers, lighted candelabra and ferns. The church pews were decorated with miniature bouquets of garden flowers tied with multicolored ribbons.

Louis I. Koke played a recital of organ music preceding the ceremony. The processional was "Jesu Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach. The congregation sang "O Happy Home Where Thou Art Loved Most Dear" by Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Dahlhaus sang "Wedding Prayer" by Dunlap and following the wedding address by Rev. John Deterding and the exchange of vows they sang "Psalms One hundred-twenty one." The recessional was "Let Us Ever Walk with Jesus."

Tulle and Lace Gown

The lovely bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a gown of white tulle and imported Chantilly lace over satin. The formal floor length gown fashioned with fitted bodice featuring a low scalloped neckline embellished with iridescent sequins and short sleeves. The bouffant tulle skirt, worn over graduated net hoops, was designed with front and back panels of tiered lace ruffles. A sequin half held her veil of sheer illusion.

She carried a cross of white carnations centered with a corsage of pink garnet roses. Her jewelry, a double strand of pearls, was the gift of the groom. Pearl earrings worn by the bride were treasures of the bridegroom's mother.

Miss Marilyn Fargo attended her sister as maid of honor and Mrs. Richard Hatcher of Jerseyville, sister of the groom, was bridesmatron. They wore exquisite gowns of net and chiffon. The colors were maize and mint styled in ballerina length with tiered ruffles of tulle and net ending in a deeper ruffle at the hemline. The waists were cinched with chiffon cummerbunds and large bows in the back. Across the shoulders was a soft drapery in tulle and net to form a portrait neckline.

They wore half-hats and mitts to match. Marilyn wore yellow and Mrs. Hatcher mint. Marilyn carried a colonial bouquet of lavender glads with matching tie and Mrs. Hatcher carried a colonial bouquet of yellow glads with matching ribbons. Both wore necklaces of a single pearl drop on a gold chain, a gift of the bride.

The flower girl, Ruth Fargo, sister of the bride, wore a lavender nylon with fitted bodice with Peter Pan collar and puffed sleeves. The skirt in three tiers was edged with lace and a large sash tied in the back. She carried a basket of petals matching her dress and wore a white hat. Her corsage was of pink sweet peas.

Mark Allan, young brother of the bridegroom, was ring bearer. The groom was attended by William J. Thurber, a classmate from Wisconsin. The groomsmen were Howard G. Lovekamp, of Stronghurst, Illinois, a close friend. Ushers were Burl Fargo, brother of the bride, Don McCullough, brother of the groom, Larry Engelbrecht, cousin of the bride, and Richard Hatcher of Jerseyville, brother-in-law of the groom. The men of the wedding party wore dark blue and gray suits with white carnation boutonnieres. Burl and Larry were the candlelighters.

Miss Betty Fargo, sister of the bride and Sharon Littig, cousin of the bride, registered the guests. They had corsages of pink sweet peas.

This bride's mother chose a powder blue and white street frock of summer cotton with white accessories. The groom's mother wore an eggshell colored summer cotton embroidered with nylon. She chose navy accessories. Both wore shoulder corsages of pink roses.

Receive at Church

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church dining room decorated in the bride's chosen colors, yellow and green. The ceiling was festooned with yellow and green garlands with white wedding bells suspended over the points of particular interest. The gift table and the serving table were skirted with white net ruffles over linen and trimmed in green and yellow. The gift table was centered with a small bouquet of yellow carnations in a silver bowl with green candles.

Jonas Lashmet And Joliet Girl United

WINCHESTER—An early summer wedding the last Saturday of June united in marriage Miss Shirley Joyce Overbey of Joliet and Jonas R. Lashmet, son of Mrs. Audrey Lashmet, Winchester, and the late Jonas Lashmet, at Joliet.

The Reverend Edward McCarthy, S.J., officiated for the double ring ceremony performed before an altar decked with white daisies and glads. White satin bows marked the pews. Traditional selections were played by the organist, Mrs. John R. Marcus.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Ernest E. Overbey, Jr. She wore a floor length gown of imported embroidered organza fashioned with empire bodice, bateau neckline and short sleeves edged with the embroidered motif. The bouffant skirt was offset by three bands of embroidery.

Her veil of French silk illusion was caught to a crown of pearlized flowers and leaves. The bride's only jewelry was a single strand of cultured pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a cascade of white stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

The bride's sister, Mrs. John V. McCarthy, Jr., was her matron of honor. She wore a waist length gown of white imported organza over tulle designed with bateau neckline and short cap sleeves edged in sweetheart pink tulle. A matching tulle cummerbund encircled her waist. Completing her attire was a matching pink picture hat. She carried white carnations. Dressed identically were the secondary attendants, Mrs. Ernest E. Overbey, Jr., sister-in-law of the bride and Miss Marjorie Seron.

Katherine Elaine Lashmet, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She wore a gown of white organza over pink tulle with a pink tulle cummerbund and high neckline edged in white lace. She wore a circlet of pink roses in her hair and carried a basket of pink and white rose petals.

John P. O'Donnell of Winchester served the groom as best man. Ushers were Jerome J. Jelinek, Wausau, Wisconsin, and Joseph P. Lashmet, brother of the bridegroom. The ring bearer was Mark Richard Lashmet, nephew of the bridegroom.

Woodruff Hotel Reception A reception was held in the Terrace Room at Hotel Woodruff. Decorations were in pink and white. Assisting were Mrs. John V. McCarthy, Sr. and Mrs. Dominic A. Romano, aunt of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Overbey wore a sheath in deep plum blue point d'esprit over tulle with matching color accessories. The groom's mother wore aqua rayon-linen with white accessories. Each complimented her costume with a corsage of white carnations.

Melissa Marr And Robert Ciota Wed

In an impressive ceremony at three o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 28, at First Presbyterian church in Springfield Miss Melissa Ann Marr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Marr, Sr., New Berlin, became the bride of Robert Louis Ciota, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius H. Ciota of River ton. Dr. Malcolm F. Stewart of Jacksonville received the vows in a double ring ceremony, assisted by Dr. Richard Paul Graebel.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a lovely full length gown of imported hand clipped lace and pure silk mist. The molded bodice featured a Sabrina neckline outlined with pearls and sequins and buttoned down the back to the hip line. The long tapered sleeves were trimmed with tiny covered buttons and ended in points over the hands. The voluminous skirt featured an overskirt of pure silk mist draped in scallops across the front, each scallop caught with a satin bow. The sides of the skirt were scalloped to the hemline and each scallop appliqued with seed pearls and sequins ending in train.

Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion was arranged from a Queen's crown of lace encrusted with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a white Bible topped with stephanotis and centered with a white orchid.

Preceding the bride to the altar were Mrs. Charles Sebring of Springfield, her sister, a matron of honor; Mrs. George Marr, Jr., a sister-in-law; Mrs. G. Thomas Dunlap, cousin of the bride and Mrs. Norman Boyd Simpson, all of New Berlin, bridesmaids.

They wore identical dresses of ballerina length, fashioned along the same lines as the bride's gown. Their fitted bodices of chiffon were softly draped in a V neckline front and back with a wide cummerbund of tulle at the waistline and a bow in the back. Their bouffant skirts of lace and matching headpieces of velvet were entwined with pearls and lace with short circular veils. They carried nosegays of pink sweetheart roses.

Melissa Ann Sebring, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a floor length dress of white chiffon with blue sash and head-dress and carried a white basket of sweetheart rose petals. Randy Marr, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. Jack Watson of Riverfront served the groom as best man. J. Thomas Marr of New Berlin, brother of the bride, was groomsmen and Frank Roseberry and Jerome Watson, Riverfront, were ushers.

Reception At Park A reception at Washington park pavilion followed immediately after the ceremony and a buffet supper was served at 7 p.m., at the home of the bride's parents for the wedding party and immediate families. Mrs. Ciota is a graduate of New Berlin High school and received her B.S. degree from Illinois State Normal University where she was a member of Sigma Tau Delta, English scholastic fraternity. She is an English instructor at Springfield High school.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Florida and New Orleans.

County Board To Appeal Tax Verdict

The Morgan county board of commissioners—A. Paul Johnson, Hobart Riggs and Ralph Heaton—Saturday filed an appeal of a decision of the Morgan county court which found that owners of stock in six Morgan county banks had been over-assessed and ordered the county to return that part of 1956 and 1957 taxes that had been paid in protest.

County Judge Paul Fenstermaker made the decision in two hearings held in June. Attorneys for the banks were Wilson & Wright and Bellatti, Fay and Bellatti.

The refunds ordered amount to a little over $20,000. Five banks in the county protested their taxes as excessive in 1956 and the Chapin State bank in 1957.

The scheduled refunds are: For 1956—Elliott State bank, $4,897.40; Farmers State, $2,800.77; Farmers and Traders State, Meredosia, $615.61; Franklin State, $697.68; Wemple State of Waverly, $874.43.

For 1957—Elliott State bank, $5,280; Farmers, $2,180; Meredosia, $720; Franklin, $640; Waverly, $910; and Chapin, $650.

THE LEISURELY LIFE

Austrian Village in the Alps Provides Scenic Working Conditions for its Citizens

WOODEN FENCES on the land separate each farmer's property. Few pieces of modern machinery are used.

VILLAGE BANDSMEN gather after Sunday church services to provide some music and song for their neighbors.

MANY CHORES keep the children busy on the farm, but they find time for games when their work is done.

LOCATED in Middle Europe, 40 miles south-east of Salzburg, Austria, the picturesque village of Filzmoos lies in the Alps Mountain range. Here, untroubled by the progress of modern-day Europe, this tiny, self-sufficient community maintains the antiquity and pace it has enjoyed for centuries. Its only apparent touch with the outside world is a daily bus.

A vast forest nearby supplies the village with most of its needs for the home, excluding hardware. Wooden tubs, furniture, roof shingles, fences and wagons are all made by the local craftsmen. The land provides the necessary food, making farming the chief occupation. In addition to being a farmer, the head of the family finds himself a hunter, woodsman, miller and bee-keeper. His wife, usually the mother of many children, is a baker, dressmaker, and specialist in preserved food. Their children go to school in the winter, and during the summer months help their parents on the farm.

Approximately 600 people live in Filzmoos, with a few leaving occasionally to work in Salzburg. The majority of residents are engaged in farming, but there also are a cartwright, blacksmith, grocer, forester, a policeman who substitutes as fire chief, an innkeeper and a priest.

HOMEMADE bacon is smoked in chimney.

NEIGHBORS greet one another for some gossip.

HAND-CHURNED butter is put in storeroom.

HAY IS GATHERED for livestock on the side of a hill. Some farm structures are 350 years old.

Amid valleys of the Alps lies old and beautiful Filzmoos in Austria.

Two Cars Collide On North Main St.

A car driven by Charles R. McLaughlin, Route 1, going south on North Main St., collided with a car driven by Arthur W. Kline, Route 3, going north on North Main Friday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the intersection of North Main and Independence.

Kline told police he was making a left turn but didn't notice the car approaching from the opposite direction.

The McLaughlin auto was towed to the John Ellis garage and the Kline auto was driven from the scene.

Sgt. Don Jarvis and patrolman Russell Armstrong attended at the scene of the accident.

Here's A Peek At Tomorrow's Bed-And-Bath Design

BY KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

There's a new design for living that should intrigue anyone belonging to a one-bath family. It's called "privatizing" and combines the luxury of private baths with the possibility of realization on a less than magnificent budget.

The idea of such an arrangement for general family use may come somewhat as a shock, but recall:

There are quite a few folks still around who can tell you what a luxury indoor bathing facilities were not too many years ago.

And any homemaker who has had to arbitrate the red-hot subject of bath priority will welcome even the beginnings of a solution to fitting two adults and several school-bound children into the bathing area.

The brain child of the plumbing industry initially it was first tried in Miami, Fla., within the framework of a standard house plan.

It is now being planned for construction in several other states.

Here's how it works: As shown in sketch, a common bathshower is shared by two rooms.

Each room, however, has its own lavatory, toilet, dressing area and closet facilities.

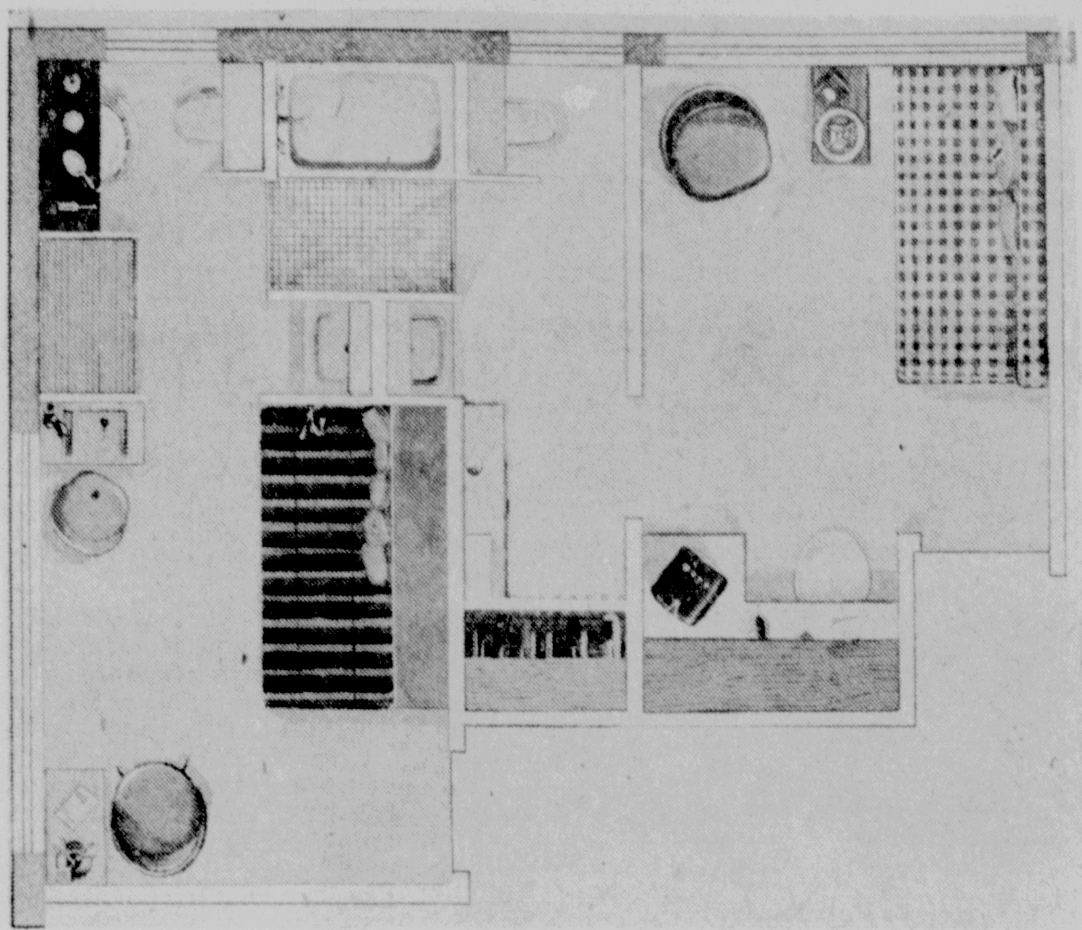

Such centering of bathing-dressing-grooming facilities gives more room for living.

Storage goes into the dressing area, leaving more room in the bedroom.

The bedroom becomes, in other than sleeping hours, a place for relaxation.

There's room for reading, writing, radio or TV enjoyment.

In effect, the design provides structure, piping and plumbing is showers which would be necessary in the case of separate bathing peek at what we can expect in which members of the family can sequester saving over plumbing in a four-bath home, for example, measurably.

How "privatizing" is laid out is shown, above, in this sketch for two junior suites. Tub-shower, upper left, is shared by occupants of two teen-agers' rooms. Each room, however, has its own lavatory, toilet, dressing area and closet space.

Costwise, especially in new construction, piping and plumbing is showers which would be necessary in the case of separate bathing peek at what we can expect in which members of the family can sequester saving over plumbing in a four-bath home, for example, measurably.

Airborne Government Girl -

She's Happiest With Her Head High In The Clouds

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Overhearing the boss say that you've "got your head in the clouds" would be enough to worry any working woman—any gal, that is, except Ada R. Mitchell.

In fact, the smiling energetic government gal would probably take it as a compliment even though her boss is FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, a stickler for on-the-job discipline.

For the tough G-man chief knows that she's a top-notch pilot who's happiest when her feet are completely off the ground.

Miss Mitchell holds the rank of major in the Civil Air Patrol and is assistant operations officer of the CAP's National Capital Wing. When not bossing the night shift of the FBI's Fingerprint Correspondence Section, she's on call to make air searches for downed planes and lost persons in Virginia, Maryland and the District of Columbia.

FBI girl Ada R. Mitchell waves from the cockpit of her plane in Washington. She searches for downed planes in the D.C. area.

The enthusiastic Texan (she often wears a pair of red cowboy boots when flying) became a CAP pilot in 1951. Before being promoted to assistant operations officer, she held the job of squadron leader.

Miss Mitchell believes one of the most dramatic events in her CAP career was taking part in an air-lift of vital blood plasma to some hospitalized Korean veterans in Martinsburg, W. Va. The veterans received the life-saving plasma within 90 minutes after the CAP planes left the runway in Washington.

Her flying experiences have also been loaded with excitement. Miss Mitchell likes to enter the All-Women's International Air Race, an annual long-range competition in which sometimes makes stock car racing look like child's play.

Before joining the FBI in 1942, she ran for mayor of Beaumont, Texas, her home town, and worked for the city's police department. She also was made an honorary deputy sheriff. Soon after World War II broke out, she became the first woman to attend the FBI Civil Defense Court for Police.

Whenever she's not busy with two government jobs, Miss Mitchell teaches first aid for the Red Cross and directs plays put on by her fellow FBI employees.

Chicago Livestock Market Report

CHICAGO (AP) — (USDA)—Here is a summary for the week of the hog, cattle and sheep markets:

Hogs 100, total 100 (estimated). At the close, best lots of No. 1 240-225 lb butchers brought 23.75-24.00 with U.S. No. 2 and 3 20.25-21.00 weights mainly at 23.25-23.75, weights over 300 lbs 23.50 and above. An increased volume of mixed grades 180-195 lb underweights closed unevenly at 22.25-23.25. Sows weighing 400 lbs and less ranged from 19.75-21.50, weights up to 550 lbs downward to 18.00.

Cattle 200, total 200 (estimated). Slaughter steers steady to 50 lower compared closing levels last week, most decline on prime grades and the week's top on prime steers at 30.50 lowest since early January. Heifers and cows also sold steady to 50 lower. Bulls strong to 50 higher and at a new high in 45 years. Yearlings fully steady. Small supply prime 1150-1400 lb slaughter steers 29.50-30.50, bulk choice and prime steers all weights 27.00-29.25, mixed good and low choice steers 26.25-26.75, and loadlots mostly good grade steers largely 25.25-26.00, utility, standard and low good steers 22.50-25.00. High choice and prime heifers 27.75-29.25, bulk good and choice heifers 25.00-27.50 utility and standard heifers 20.00-24.00, utility and commercial cows 18.00-21.00, canners and outsiders largely 15.50-18.50, utility and commercial bulls closed at 23.75-25.00, good and choice yearlings largely 28.00-31.00, utility and standard 18.00-27.00.

Sheep 100, total 100 (estimated). High choice and prime spring lambs sold 25.00-26.00, bulk choice 24.00-25.00, good to low choice 22.50-24.00, a few cull to low good 17.00-22.00. Few loads mostly choice No. 1 pel 94-110 lbs yearlings 21.00-21.50. Good and choice slaughter ewes 5.00-6.00, cull and utility 4.00-5.00, few extremely heavy ewes and bucks sold down to 3.50.

CHICAGO (AP) — The decline of butcher hog prices this week was the sharpest of any week since last September although receipts were the smallest for a five-day period since March. Setback occurred on four of the five days and the average price on Wednesday had dropped to $23.51 after reaching a four-year high of $24.49 on July 1.

Demand by both shippers and local packers was light, and the wholesale pork market was weak on some cuts. Prices of pork loins dropped from $3 to $7.50 compared with a week ago.

Barrows and gilts were 25 cents to $1.25 lower for the week and sows which comprised about 31 per cent of the receipts were only 25 cents lower.

Slaughter steer offerings were at least 15 per cent greater than for the previous holiday week but the supply was evenly distributed. Monday's run was the largest of the year while Tuesday's was the smallest in about three months. About half of the week's total run came in on Monday.

The percentage of slaughter steers was somewhat smaller while heifer offerings were larger. Sheep receipts were 40 per cent larger than a week ago and were the largest for any week since May 22. With the over-all quality of spring lambs much lower, prices declined 50 cents to $1 and slaughter sheep were weak to $1 lower.

Buyers complained that the offerings were of lighter weights than desired and said there was a scarcity of receipts that would dress out carcasses over 50 lbs.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—U.S. government bonds declined again this week despite a fairly brisk rally, inspired by news the treasury had been buying bonds on Wednesday and Thursday.

The corporate list ended mixed with not much price change in most categories. However, quality domestic bonds generally declined in sympathy with the further retreat in government bonds while convertible issues gained in line with the uptick in stocks.

Trading in the corporate list picked up from both a week ago, which was only a four-day week, and a year ago. Volume on the New York Stock Exchange totaled $23,806,000 par value compared with $19,154,000 last week and $20,768,000 in the comparative 1957 week.

New York Stock Market

By ED MORSE
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market this week digested a mixture of good and bad news and then moved to still another new high for 1958.

It was the market's third straight weekly advance and its best of the current series. The market's progress has now brought it back to its level of last Aug. 21. At that time the market had retreated from its July peak but had not yet gone into its sharp October lull.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose $1.50 on the week to close at $177.10, the new peak for this year.

All of the week's gain was

Tripoli Power Plant Blown Up By Rebels

Many sources in Beirut speculated that the outbreak in Tripoli might be the start of a rebel offensive designed to force a decision before July 24, the date Parliament is expected to meet to elect a new president.

Events on that day may decide whether Lebanon will have peace or a real civil war.

If Parliament elects a compromise candidate to succeed pro-Western President Camille Chamoun—the target of the rebels—the uprising will end.

If a president who is considered a Chamoun stooge is elected, opposition leaders probably will form a rebel government. That will mean full-scale civil war.

Lebanon now is in its 64th day of a general strike and disturbances. With bombings, shootings, and terrorism, there have been pitched battles between rebels and security forces.

Wheat Advances As Contract Time Runs Out

By GIL MAYO
CHICAGO (AP) — Time appeared to be running out on wheat futures traders this week while producers continued playing a waiting game with the biggest supply of winter wheat the nation ever has had.

One grain firm commented that so little of the new record winter crop is being sold that dealers would be hard put to produce any evidence the harvest is about half completed.

Since it seems apparent the grain will come to market in dribbles, futures dealers began considering their large commitments, particularly for July delivery, and began bidding prices up on the Board of Trade.

The July contracts became due on the 22nd and it seems certain now to the short interests that some fast evening up will be necessary to cancel out commitments. The alternative will be to scratch around for supplies where few supplies of high grade grain exist.

At the close of the week, wheat was 24-45 cents a bushel higher than a week ago. July 1.85%-1.90%, corn 14-21% lower, July 1.29%-1.34%, oats 14% higher to 1% lower, July 1.25%-1.25%, soybeans 14-1% higher, July 26-28%, and unchanged to a few hundred pounds higher, July 12-15.

Trading in other grains during the week was generally dull in the absence of any major influences and prices shifted slowly and narrowly.

Setback occurred on four of the five days and the average price on Wednesday had dropped to $23.51 after reaching a four-year high of $24.49 on July 1.

Demand by both shippers and local packers was light, and the wholesale pork market was weak on some cuts. Prices of pork loins dropped from $3 to $7.50 compared with a week ago.

Barrows and gilts were 25 cents to $1.25 lower for the week and sows which comprised about 31 per cent of the receipts were only 25 cents lower.

Slaughter steer offerings were at least 15 per cent greater than for the previous holiday week but the supply was evenly distributed. Monday's run was the largest of the year while Tuesday's was the smallest in about three months. About half of the week's total run came in on Monday.

The percentage of slaughter steers was somewhat smaller while heifer offerings were larger. Sheep receipts were 40 per cent larger than a week ago and were the largest for any week since May 22. With the over-all quality of spring lambs much lower, prices declined 50 cents to $1 and slaughter sheep were weak to $1 lower.

Buyers complained that the offerings were of lighter weights than desired and said there was a scarcity of receipts that would dress out carcasses over 50 lbs.

Dr. Eisenhower Starts Tour Of Central America

PANAMA (AP)—Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower arrived in Panama Saturday, his first stop on a good-will, fact-finding mission in Latin America.

The brother of President Eisenhower arrived at Tocumen Airport in an Army Constellation plane. Foreign Minister Miguel Moreno Jr. welcomed Dr. Eisenhower as "the authentic representative of good will which popularized his brother's actions in the international field."

In reply, Dr. Eisenhower recalled that he accompanied the President to the Panama meeting of the American presidents two years ago.

"I return today at my brother's request," he said, "to see if I can gain through informal discussions with your leading officials and other groups of Panamanians a greater appreciation of some of the continuing problems which beset our neighbors in Panama and Central America."

"I come to you with an open mind and a hand outstretched in sincere friendship."

A crowd of about 200 men and women at the airport gave him a cordial reception. They applauded from the airport's second-story terrace as Eisenhower stepped smiling down the ramp from the plane. He was followed by his daughter, Ruth.

The reception Dr. Eisenhower gets during his 22-day tour of six nations and Puerto Rico may test the state of U.S. relations in the area after the strains revealed by the Latin-American tour of Vice President Richard Nixon in May.

Honduras, Costa Rica, Nicaragua, El Salvador and Guatemala are the other countries on the tour.

A student union in Panama turned down an invitation from the U.S. Embassy for a delegation of five students to meet Eisenhower Monday at the embassy residence.

The student president, Carlos Arellano Lennox, instead sent a cable to Dr. Eisenhower inviting him to sit down and talk with them at National University. Arellano said the students don't want to engage Eisenhower in a debate but insisted if there is a meeting it must be on university grounds.

Arellano added that the students would guarantee Eisenhower's safety within the university premises and allow him to bring any security guards he wants except members of Panama's national secret police or the National Guard.

The students have been feuding with the government since police put down student demonstrations in May against school administrative policies.

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Civil Air Patrol planes criss-crossed the gully-strewn southwestern Wisconsin Saturday in a search for a missing plane carrying an Army electronic engineer and three other persons.

The olive green, low-winged Navion left Milwaukee's Gen. Billy Mitchell Field Friday morning for Des Moines and has not been heard from since.

Aboard were Lester Weber, 43, of San Francisco, a civilian electronic engineer with the U.S. Army in San Francisco; his wife, a brother, Richard, also of San Francisco; and the brother's wife.

Weber's 17-year-old son, Duane, told newsmen in San Francisco his parents and uncle and aunt had planned to make Cheyenne, Wyo., in their flight from Milwaukee and then go on to Reno, Nev., later Saturday.

"I know they made it," Duane said. "Dad's been flying for 20 years."

Capt. Robert Getts, a CAP officer stationed in Janesville, Wis., said 25 CAP planes from Wisconsin were taking part in the search. CAP units from Illinois and Iowa also participated.

Outline Program, Approve Budget For Bluffs WSCS

BLUFFS — The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Bluffs Methodist church met Thursday afternoon at the church with Mrs. C. M. Parker and Mrs. Orville Gathard hostesses. Seventeen members answered roll call with a Bible verse with "spirit."

Two guests were also present, Mrs. Arthur Grady who became a member and Miss Gretchen Vannier.

Devotions and the lesson, "March of Missions Through the World," were led by Mrs. Paul Vannier and Mrs. Margaret Watson. Mrs. Vannier gave a very clear picture of the work being done around the world through a "connectional organization of church women."

Mrs. Harold Oakes presided during the business session. Reports of various officers were given. The budget was approved for the coming year. Mr. Gus Andrus, who attended the School of Missions, gave a brief and interesting report of the sessions. Mrs. Jane Woodson, Mrs. John Pine and Mrs. Andrus reported on the seminar held in Pittsfield the previous day. The society will contribute toward the sending of a delegate to the Methodist World Camp to be held the week of July 20.

The program outline for the coming year was presented by Mrs. Watson, program chairman. The September meeting will be guest day with members of neighboring societies at Naples and Mercedia to be invited. Mrs. William Dudley of Pittsfield, District president, will be the speaker. All women of the church are urged to attend this meeting.

The August meeting will be the annual family picnic, the business session to be at 3:30 with families invited at 6 o'clock for a potluck supper. Mrs. Jane Woodson extended an invitation to come to her home, Mrs. N. V. Whorton, Mrs. M. C. Parker, Mrs. Gus Andrus and Mrs. Floyd Hart are the committee in charge.

Greeting cards for Christmas were displayed and the society voted to again conduct a card sale this year.

Mrs. Cynthia Newberry closed the meeting with a spiritual life thought for the day.

The hostesses served delicious refreshments of orange sherbet, cake, nuts, mints and iced tea.

BLUFFS — A group of friends enjoyed the Fourth of July evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Willis and their house guest, Miss Karen Busen of Arenzville. A potluck supper was enjoyed. Those enjoying the evening were Miss Thelma Mueller, Bluffs; Mr. and Mrs. Allan Watt and Dr. and Mrs. Paul Garrison of Winchester; Mr. and Mrs. Berton Chamberlain of Mt. Sterling; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jackson of Jacksonville; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Miller of Versailles; Dr. Louise Kuehn of Bluffs; Wendell Freeman joined the group later in the evening.

Wounded Negro Admits Killing Two Marshals

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Two Mandeville, La., town marshals called to settle a dispute at a Negro bar were blasted to death with a shotgun early Saturday.

Five hours later, a suspicious policeman arrested their admitted slayer, Moreese Bickham, just outside Baton Rouge, 60 miles away.

"They shot me first and I killed them," the 41-year-old Negro told police as he was given treatment at Baton Rouge General Hospital. Officers removed Bickham to jail after treatment where a bullet glanced off one of his ribs.

Marshal Gus Gill, 70, and his 71-year-old assistant, Jack Gallo, were answered a call at a bar just outside Mandeville.

Mandeville is a resort town located on the north shore of Lake Pontchartrain.

Bickham, a 175-pound carpenter, said the officers ordered him to drop his shotgun. Instead, he ducked into some weeds.

The officer with the "shiny pistol" opened fire, wounding Bickham. Bickham said he then shot one of the officers with his shotgun.

The other officer ran to the car to get a shotgun.

"I got out of the weeds and walked toward him and when I was about 15 feet away I shot him," Bickham was quoted as saying.

A woman passerby found Gill lying beside the road, slain with a shotgun blast in the head. Sixty feet away, officers found Gallo, shot in the back.

Bickham said he drove to New Orleans and left his shotgun with a relative. Then he headed toward Baton Rouge, driving what he ran out of gas about one mile south of Sorrento. Then he abandoned the officers' stolen car and went to Baton Rouge by bus.

Bickham was booked on charges of murder.

U.S. Will Make Reasonable Deal For 9 Airmen

late Friday. Murphy accused the Communists of inhuman treatment of the men, said U.S. public opinion is becoming increasingly indignant, and charged the Reds with seeking political ransom and blackmail.

At the same time, officials pointed out Saturday, Murphy reminded Menchikov that a U.S. military representative had established direct contact with East German authorities some time ago and had advised them he was willing to comply with any reasonable deal.

Some State Department officials believe the Reds will give way to their demands at some point, but the point may be slow in coming, and the nine men may be in for a longer period of detention.

What would constitute an acceptable arrangement in U.S. terms?

Officials said this government is prepared to deal with the East German regime either on an informal basis or through an intermediary. In somewhat parallel situations involving the North Koreans and Red Chinese, state departments were issued by each side on the agreements reached by informal negotiation.

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—The messenger boy on duty at the eighth floor of the New York District Attorney's office had "The New York Law Journal" spread out on his desk. The paper seemed to be a bad omen. Its bold-faced lead story was headlined, "Criminal Law: Larceny."

This was the start of a day on what now must constitute the boxing beat in New York. The DA is the man to see these days and even if Frank Hogan and his chief racketeer, Al Scotti, were busy for a moment there are enough people in his office to take care of visitors, whether of the volunteer type or those who are conscripted.

"We do not indict recklessly," Mr. James O'Leary began, in reference to the charges against Bert Grant, the boxing judge. And, of course, the indictments which are expected to be forthcoming.

AS FOR THE LATTER, Mr. O'Leary stated the law's side of the case simply. "The special grand jury called to look into boxing has been extended until Dec. 4. This means their work is not finished."

In moving about the marble-walled district attorney's hallways, we found out that indictments are coming slowly from the grand jury for the simple reason that it takes the panel a long time to figure out the meanings of half the evidence in front of them.

Boxing's business is conducted in such devious, all-under-the-table ways that even the slickest manager is hard pressed to keep up with the times. A grand jury, made up of clerks and bankers and housewives, has a Dickens of a time figuring it out.

The New York boxing investigation is now approximately one year old. A special assistant DA has been working on the case full time for that period, with a working force of detectives under him. Court orders for legal wiretaps have been obtained throughout the year. Each is good for six months. If we know our boxing people, most of them are silly enough, particularly over a six-month period, to talk as if they have stolen H bomb secrets.

THIS SEEMS TO BE a substantial investigation and, as we are informed, Mr. Hogan's office has a record of 98 per cent convictions on indictments. Bucking him is like playing the horses.

Just what, you ask, is forthcoming in the way of boxing news? Looking at it objectively, there will be indictments. Carbo, for one, would be a good bet. The indictments—and trials—will make good reading and suspicion is that, while they will not be earth-shaking to fight people, they could do irreparable damage to the International Boxing Club's program—sponsors withdrawing from the sordidness perhaps—and bring about a complete change in the boxing picture.

If so, Teddy Brenner, now struggling to keep the St. Nicholas Arena alive, seems to be in the best spot of anybody. He could be the new big man in the game.

IT IS HARD TO CONCEIVE of many fixed fights being found. These things are few and far between. But managers' habits of taking out "insurance policies" on a fight will look bad. The DA hopes to prove Grant was in the receiving end of this category.

At one point during the day, I deposited a list of names on a man's desk and asked how close it came to covering those who will be indicted.

He read it and chuckled. "Let me show this to a couple of the fellows, will you? I want to have some fun."

"You know this list reminds me of a story. Back in 1946 somebody was around forging the name of a fight manager on checks. We sent a detective to the manager and asked for a copy of his signature to aid in the investigation."

"Sure," he says. He pulled an envelope from his pocket and wrote his name on it.

"When the detective came downtown he happened to glance at the back of the envelope. It had the most surprising list of names—figures alongside them, too—that you would want to see. 'It was shown to the grand jury and everybody laughed.'"

"What about this trip?" he asked.

The guy looked at his watch. "If you'll excuse me," he said.

Phillies' Semproch Notches 11th Victory In Beating Cubs, 12-2

Bernburgoo Puts On Hot Finish To Beat Round Table

CHICAGO (AP)—Bernburgoo, a 19-1 shot, put on a blazing finish Saturday to upset night Round Table and win the $35,000 Warren Wright Memorial Handicap at Arlington Park.

The 5-year-old bay owned by W. H. Bishop picked up $35,000 for the victory, exceeding his previous total earnings for the year. Round Table, who appeared to be heading for another easy victory after overtake Shorullah at the three-eighths pole, pulled into a two-length lead going into the stretch. Shan Pac, Shorullah's stable mate, opened up a challenge but Round Table managed to stay in front. Then apparently coming from nowhere, Bernburgoo put on a blazing finish and nipped Round Table at the wire in a photo finish.

Time for the mile and a furlong was 1:43 3/5, one-fifth off the Arlington Park track record. Round Table finished second and Shan Pac third. Bernburgoo, ridden by Clarence Meaux, returned $19.00, $6.00 and $3.40. Round Table paid $2.60 and $2.20 and the entry of Shan Pac-Shorullah returned $2.40.

EARN WASHES OUT TILT

BALTIMORE (AP)—Rain halted the Kansas City-Baltimore game Saturday with the Athletics leading 2-1 with one out in the last of the fifth inning. The game was delayed for more than an hour by thunderstorms before it finally was postponed.

Dick Stuart, Salt Lake City's home run slinger, hopes to be an actor when his playing days are over. He has had parts in movie and television productions.

CHICAGO (AP)—Ray Semproch, 27-year-old freshman right hander, Saturday became the first National League pitcher to win 11 games as he pitched the Philadelphia Phillies to a 12-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Semproch scattered nine hits as the Phillies, breezing after a four run first inning, posted their ninth win in the past 11 games. The Phillies pounded 16 hits against four Cub pitchers, including starter and loser Dick Drott, who ended up with his seventh loss after a second inning kayo. Richie Ashburn paced the Phils with four straight hits after drawing a game-opening walk.

The Phils scored two more runs in the eighth on two walks and singles by Henry Anderson, Dave Philley and Chico Fernandez.

Friday Baseball

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Quietly, almost as though he were committing a heresy, Jackie Jensen has replaced Ted Williams as "Mr. Big" of the Boston Red Sox.

Ever since he arrived on the scene as a spindly kid in 1939, Williams has been the man the Red Sox looked to for the big blow when they needed it.

He'll be 40 years old at the end of next month, and while he's still to be feared when he takes his bat in his hand, Williams definitely is No. 2 man in the Red Sox power department these days.

This is Jensen's ninth year in the American League, and he's rolling along at a 319 clip. He leads the league in runs batted in with 76 and home runs with 26. Homer No. 26 Friday in Boston's 6-1 decision over Chicago equalled his previous season's high.

He also knocked in four runs to make DeLoach's job on the mound easy. The victory was DeLoach's eighth without a defeat. It was only his fourth start as he's primarily a reliever.

Elsewhere in the American League, the New York Yankees blasted the Cleveland Indians, 11-3, and the Washington Senators edged the Detroit Tigers, 6-5, in a night game. The scheduled Kansas City at Baltimore game was rained out.

In the National League, both the front-runners won. Milwaukee kept its game and a half lead over San Francisco by turning back Los Angeles 7-4. The Giants also recorded a 7-4 triumph but it took them 12 innings to squish Cincinnati. The St. Louis Cardinals stopped the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-2, and the Pittsburgh Pirates whipped the Chicago Cubs 7-2.

The Yanks backed Bob Turley's pitching with a 14-hit attack on three Cleveland pitchers to keep their lead at 11 games over the Red Sox. Ray Nariskie was the victim.

Ed Fitzgerald played a Dick Merrill role in Washington's triumph over Detroit, stroking a two-out pinch single which scored Roy Sievers from third base. That capped a two-run, come-from-behind rally.

Sam Jones, the towering St. Louis right-hander, shows promise of getting out of the rut. At his current rate, he'll lead the National League in strikeouts for 1958.

Friday night, he whiffed 10 Phillies to run his mark for the year to 108—the first NL pitcher to pass 100—and in the process whiffed Philadelphia 6-2 to enable the Cards to move into third place.

When the season is all over, the 32-year-old veteran won't be near the top in won-lost record. However, it should be noted that he has lost a couple of tough ones.

The Phillies beat him, 1-0, back in May and the Milwaukee Braves got to him for a 3-2 decision after he had them shut out for eight innings two months ago. Still, his record shows only a half dozen victories against seven defeats.

While the Cards were taking over third place, the Milwaukee Braves and the New York Giants, running one-two, both won. The Braves clubbed Los Angeles 7-4 and the Giants whiffed Cincinnati also by 7-4 although this one took 12 innings. That left the Braves still a game and a half in front. The Pittsburgh Pirates turned back the Chicago Cubs 7-2 in the other NL game.

In the American League, the New York Yankees clubbed the Cleveland Indians 11-3 (lead-11 games), the Boston Red Sox clipped the Chicago White Sox 6-1

RESOLVE SHAKEN

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Gregory can't completely give up his enthusiasm for coast-to-coast tryouts of productions prior to Broadway presentation.

Gregory during the last several years has booked such productions as "Don Juan in Hell" and "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial" in more than 70 cities. For his next production, "Marriage-Go-Round," he vowed that he would give all that up and arrive on the White Way after a brief tour of nearby trout towns.

The final agenda for the Leslie Stevens comedy starring Charles Boyer and Claudette Colbert however begins in San Francisco, goes to Denver and completes the warmup in Philadelphia.

Virgil's Homer In 5th Highlights 3-1 Win For Detroit Tigers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ossie Virgil slammed out a fifth-inning homer Saturday to touch off a three-run Detroit rally which held up for a 3-1 Tigers victory over the Washington Senators.

The Senators were at bat in the ninth when the game was shortened by a rainstorm.

Tom Morgan was credited with the triumph. He yielded singles in his first and second innings and then moved down in succession.

The last 12 batters he faced. Herm Wehmeier started for the Tigers but left due to exhaustion after two innings.

After a 37-minute delay because of thunder squalls, Billy Hoeltz blanked the Senators in the last

Mizell Tosses 6-Hit 2-0 Shutout For Cards Over Pirates, Friend

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Vinegar Bend Mizell, sidelined two weeks with a sore back, returned to the firing line Saturday and stifled the Pittsburgh Pirates with a six-hit 2-0 shutout.

Mizell evened up his record at 6-6 and gave the Cards their eighth straight victory over the Pirates. Bill Virdon's eighth inning double was the only extra base blow off Mizell. The Alabama lefthander bested Bob Friend.

Don Blasingame singled with one out in the third and went to second on a wild pitch. He stayed there as Wally Moon grounded out. The Pirates passed Stan Musial intentionally to set up the force play and pit righthanded Friend against righthanded hitting Boyer, but Boyer singled Blasingame home.

The Cards tallied their second run in the seventh. Curtis Flood bunted and Friend fumbled it for an error. Hobie Landrith singled Flood to third and he scored on a double play ground ball by pinch hitter Joe Cunningham.

Dodgers Grab 4-3 Win From Cincy On Neal's Homer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Little Charley Neal drove in the deciding runs with his home run as Los Angeles grabbed a 4-3 decision from Cincinnati.

Neal's homer, his 15th of the season, curved into the right field stands just inside the foul pole wiping out a 3-2 Cincinnati lead in the fourth inning.

Lefty Fred Kipp started for the Dodgers and lasted seven innings, gaining his fourth victory in seven decisions. Brooks Lawrence went the distance for Cincinnati and suffered his fifth loss. He has won six.

Big Walt Drope had given the Redlegs a 2-0 lead in the first inning with a line drive home run over the left field screen. Rookie Dan Morejon was on base with a walk. The Redlegs got their third run in the third on doubles by Johnny Temple and Frank Robinson.

Big Effort
Upsets Idun In Delaware Oaks

STANTON, Del. (AP)—Brookmeade Stable's Big Effort upset the odds on favorite, Idun, as she came from behind in the stretch and won the $49,025 Delaware Oaks over a sloppy track at Delaware Park Saturday. Big Effort was timed in 1:32 1/5 for the mile and an eighth.

Big Effort, ridden by Pete Anderson, returned $23.40, $6.00 and $3.20.

Idun, Mrs. C. Ulrich Bay's 1957, 2-year-old filly, came from behind in the stretch and won the $49,025 Delaware Oaks over a sloppy track at Delaware Park Saturday. Big Effort was timed in 1:32 1/5 for the mile and an eighth.

Big Effort, carrying the same 119 pounds assigned Idun, earned $36,200 for her victory.

C.C. Swimmers Drop Decision

Another thrilling swimming meet developed between Spring Lake Country Club of Quincy and Quincy Country Club at Quincy Thursday evening, Spring Lake won the return match by the final score of 126-115. Jacksonville had won the first meet held here by a near similar margin.

Again the final outcome was decided by the strong girl swimmers from Quincy. Harriet Cole, Jacksonville's strong entry in the 13 and 14 year old girls was unable to compete and this proved to be a thorn in the side toward the eastside natators chances.

Some of the highlights of the meet for the well-represented Jacksonville crowd were the relays in which the local swimmers won four out of five, and the fact that some of Jacksonville's breast stroke swimmers placed first and second in swimming breaststroke against Quincy's butterfly swimmers. All breaststroke events were omitted and swum as either breast or butterfly.

U.S. Beats Canada To Gain Finals Of Zone Playoffs

TORONTO (P) — The United States defeated Canada in doubles Saturday to clinch the best-of-five series and gain the final round of the North American Zone Davis Cup tennis competition. Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, and Sammy Giammalva of Houston, Texas, beat Canada's Bob Bedford and Don Fanlana, to give the Yanks an unmountable 3-0 lead.

The winning scores were 6-1, 13-11, 6-4.

The U.S. won the first two singles matches Thursday and Friday and doubles without the loss of a set. MacKay beat Fontana in the opener and Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., downed Bedford on Friday.

The final two singles matches, now reduced to the status of exhibitions, will be played Monday. Argentina most likely will be the other zone finalist. The Argentines blanked British West Indies 3-0 Saturday and meet Israel next.

Burke Covers 3rd Round In Record 54-Hole Score

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (P) — A record 54-hole score gave Jack Burke Jr., a three-stroke lead Saturday at the end of the third round of the Insurance City Open Golf Tournament.

Burke, of Klamath Lake, N.Y., turned in a third-round 69, two under par, for a total of 199. The score was a record for the first three rounds in the seven-year history of the $25,000 tournament.

The tournament is being held on the Wethersfield Country Club's 6,551-yard, par 71 course. Three strokes behind was Art Wall Jr. of Pocumt Manor, Pa. Wall shot a six-under-par 65.

Best round of the day, however, was shot by Wesley Ellis Jr., the Texan who plays out of Ridgewood, N.M. He had an eight under par 63 for a 54-hole total of 203. This put him in third place with Don Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., who had a 69.

Gallant Man Takes Honors In Gold Cup Race

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (P) — Gallant Man raced to a close but decisive triumph in the $162,100 Hollywood Gold Cup Handicap Saturday, drilled home by jockey Willie Shoemaker in a thrilling finish.

Turning on a tremendous burst of power in the run to the wire, the little 4-year-old champion won by a half length over Eddie Schmidt, with Seaneen third in the skippy field of five.

Shoemaker had to give Gallant Man a bit of urging but it was enough to win and collect $100,000 first money.

The time for the mile and one-quarter was 2:01 3/5.

Waiting in the winner's circle was Gallant Man's happy owner, wealthy oilman Ralph Lowe of Midland, Tex., and his trainer, John Nerud.

The odds on favorite with a roaring crowd of 22,000, Gallant Man returned $2.80, $2.20 and $2.10.

Eddie Schmidt, with Alex Maese in the saddle, paid $2.60 and $2.10, and Seaneen $2.10.

This was Gallant Man's first race since he whipped Bold Ruler in the rich Metropolitan mile at Belmont Park June 14, and was another race in his campaign for "horse of the year" honors which he lost to Bold Ruler in 1957.

Coming into the stretch it was Seaneen blazing away for a possible upset. But that was when Gallant Man, his 980-pound frame a powerhouse, surged up and into the lead.

The lightly weighted Eddie Schmidt, who weighs even less than Gallant Man, put up the run down the stretch. But couldn't overhaul Gallant Man.

ERICKSON TO PORTRAY FDR
NEW YORK (P) — Lefty Erickson has been signed to portray Franklin Delano Roosevelt in a national company of the current smash hit, "Sunrise at Campobello."

The tour is scheduled to begin in October.

Downstate Prep Notes

By JOHN CAMPBELL

Dave Luechtefeld of Okawville has decided to enroll at St. Louis U. next fall and the 6-7 basketball star was placed on the third All-State team last season.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association basketball committee selected Louisville, Ky., for the site of the 1959 NCAA cage finals. Kentucky U. will be the host school for the championships March 20-21 and they were held last season at Louisville. The regional playoffs will be held March 13 and 14 at Charlotte, N.C., Evanston, Ill., San Francisco, Calif., and Manhattan, Kan.

Bill Tuttle of the Kansas City Athletics attended the Rotary Club meeting at Farmington Tuesday. Athletic director of Farmington High, Walter Grebe, and Tuttle's coach in high school, had a television installed so they could watch the All-Star game. Bill was en route to Baltimore to join his teammates for a game Thursday night and he is a former star at Bradley U. and Detroit Tigers.

Norman L. White, former star athlete at Astoria High, married the former Bonnie Sue Welker of Astoria Saturday night at Astoria. Basketball coach at Astoria High in former years include Ed Reeve, John Murphy, Jerry Lemons, Al Penman and Bill Owen.

Lou Baker is the new football and basketball coach at Paris High as he replaces Ernest W. Eveland in basketball and John Stabler in football. Eveland has been basketball coach for 21 years at Paris while Stabler has served five seasons as football boss of the Tigers. Baker is moving from Arcola High where his team went to the "Sweet 16 Tourney" last March.

Coach Al Sherline's Taylorville Tornadoes are returning to the Centralia High Holiday tourney next December for the first time since 1946. Peoria Central will make the first appearance in this tourney next December while Wood River's Oilers are returning for the first time since 1945 under Coach Chuck Summers. Anna-Jonesboro is back for the first time since 1945 while Mattoon's last trip was in 1946.

The Big 12 conference has disbanded after 31 years as Peoria Central, Streator, Peoria Manual and Pekin have dropped out leaving eight schools including Champaign, Danville, Decatur, Mattoon, Springfield, Lincoln, Bloomington and Urbana in the loop. Many schedule changes are being noticed with Pekin playing Canton only once in basketball. Dick Nest, athletic director at Spring Valley wants a football opponent for Hall High of Spring Valley on Sept. 19.

The 1958 basketball season will go down as one of the best in recent years for Central Illinois schools as Carrollton won the Illinois Valley, Waverly Holiday tourney and Winchester Invitational tourney; Jerseyville won the Regional and Sectional titles; Crown while Springfield won the Taylorville won the Mid State first Big 12 title since Mark Perleman's State champs won in 1935. Franklin copped the MSM honors and Staunton tied with Carlville for the South Central championship. Jacksonville won the Central conference title for the second consecutive year.

Track and field winners were Big 12 — Champaign, Illinois Valley — Carrollton; South Central — Carlville; Mid State — Shelbyville; Macoupin County — Carlville; Greene County — Carrollton; Pike County — Pittsfield.

Emerge Victorious In Missouri Tennis Tourney

ST. LOUIS (P) — Nell Unterseher of Lincoln, Neb., won the junior singles title and Carol Hanks of St. Louis captured her second championship Saturday in the Missouri Valley Junior Tennis Tournament.

The top-ranked Unterseher stopped unseeded Bob Boudon of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, in the best-of-five finals, 6-4, 6-4, 6-1.

The 15-year-old Miss Hanks, who already had won the girls 15 division, added the 18-year-old girls' singles title by defeating top-seeded Connie Christler of Mission, Kan., 6-1, 6-2.

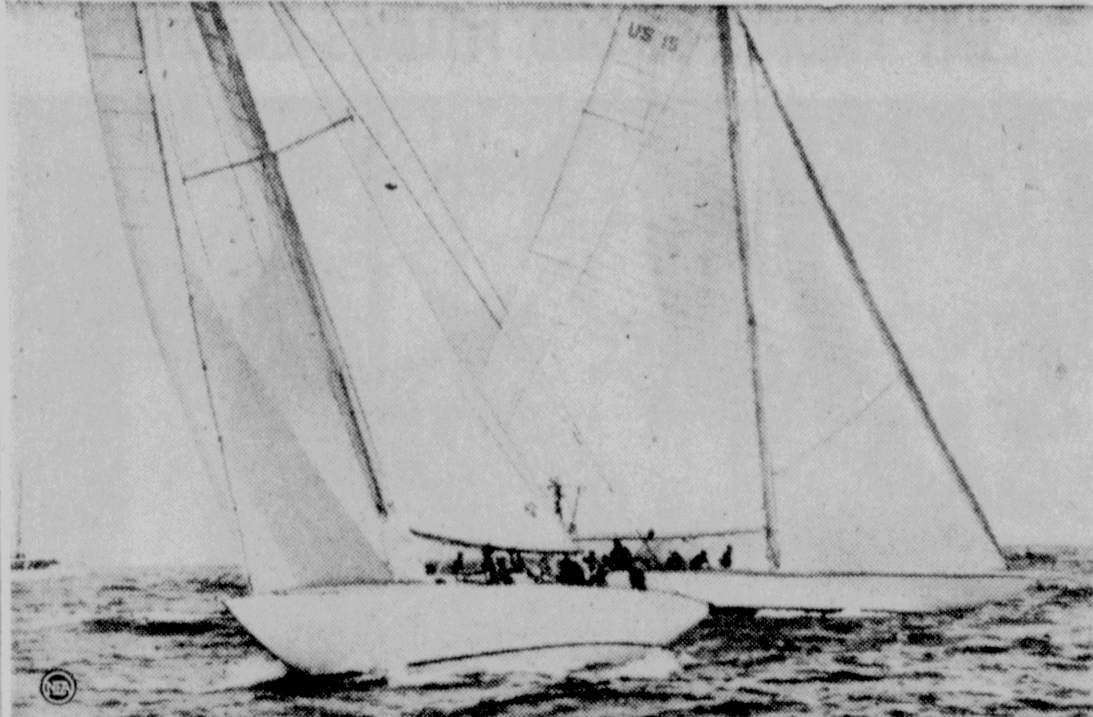

In the all-St. Louis boys' single finals, Jimmy Parker downed first-ranked Cliff Buchholz, 7-5, 5-7, 6-2. The two high school freshmen had met four previous times this season with Buchholz always winning.

In the 13-year-old boys' finals, Chuck Darley of Iowa City defeated Gary Rieser of St. Louis, 6-2, 6-3. In the girls 13 title match Sandra Shelton of Ponca City, Okla., edged Cheryl English, St. Louis, 3-6, 6-2, 6-2.

BRIDGE FOR BRIDGE
CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa. (P) — When the late Grant Wood was struggling to get a start as an artist, he went to the office of Dr. B. H. McKeely, a dentist. He explained he needed some dental work but had no cash available. He offered in payment a painting of a bridge he had made in Paris. The dentist said he guessed that would do.

"Okay," said Wood, "it's a deal. a bridge for a bridge."

Dr. McKeely later became model for the farmer in Grant's painting, "American Gothic."

AROUND THE BUOY—Columbia, left, goes around the first marker buoy after taking an early lead against Vim off Newport. Nipping Vim by 45 seconds in the Adams Cup race places Columbia in the favorite's position in the battle to represent the United States in the America's Cup races in September. The English have not yet decided on their candidate.

Waner Resigns As Instructor For Braves

MILWAUKEE (P) — Paul Waner, former Pittsburgh Pirates star and a member of baseball's Hall of Fame, resigned Saturday as batting instructor of the world champion Milwaukee Braves because of ill health.

Waner, 55, was confined to a sanitarium in Florida last winter with tuberculosis.

His resignation was announced by John Mullen, Braves' farm director. Mullen described Waner, who was known as "Big Poison" during his playing days, as "the best in the business as far as we are concerned."

Waner is one of only eight players in the history of the major leagues to collect 3,000 or more hits. He has 3,152 hits to his credit. The National League's most valuable player in 1927, Waner had a lifetime batting average of .340.

Mullen said the Braves have given no thought to a successor. Waner held the job for the last four seasons.

OBJECT FROM SKI'S FALLS IN BARNYARD
MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (AP) — Police and mechanics at King City Airport puzzled Saturday over a piece of equipment that apparently fell from a plane into a barnyard near Mount Vernon.

The blue, cone-shaped object is steel-plated and about four-feet long. It plopped among the hogs and chickens on the farm of Clarence Allen Thursday night.

The Allen told police they heard a loud thump in their barnyard but did not investigate until Friday. A mechanic at the airport said the words "Boeing Aircraft Co." are stamped on a metal plate inside the object.

Officers at Scott Air Force Base, Belleville, said they are sending a man to investigate.

FULL CIRCLE—The power of the United States Women's Amateur Athletic Union track and field team appearing in Moscow, July 27-28, is best exemplified by Mrs. Earlene Brown. Jolly Earlene is shown throwing the discus 152 feet, 5 1/2 inches, surpassing Mrs. Olga Fikotova Connolly's record by nearly five feet, in the national meet at Morristown, N. J. The 226-pound Los Angeles mother and Olympian was a double winner, putting the eight-pound shot 47 feet, 5 1/2 inches.

Yankees Rout Indians In Rainy Contest, 10-0

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees walloped Cleveland 10-0 Saturday in a bizarre game interrupted three times by rain, played under protest by the Indians, and capped by Herb Score's first appearance against the Yankees since his almost tragic accident 14 months ago.

Highlighting the Yanks' fourth victory in the five game set with Cleveland were Andy Carey's two homers good for five runs and a brilliant relief job by Art Ditmar. Ditmar blanked the Indians without a hit in the 4-2-3 innings he pitched.

But it was Score and Gil McDougald who provided the high drama on this rainy, muggy long afternoon.

It was the sore-armed pitcher's first effort since June 14 this year. Ironically the first batter to face him was McDougald and he struck out on a curve ball. It was Gil's line drive smash to the face that almost cost Herb the sight in his right eye in Cleveland.

Cleveland protested over the slippery surface in the batters box.

Cepeda Smashes 2nd Game-Winning Homer, Giants Trip Braves, 5-3

SAN FRANCISCO (P) — Rookie first baseman Orlando Cepeda smashed his second game-winning home run in as many days in the San Francisco Giants' best performance of the season Saturday, 5-3. Saturday, moving within one-half a game of the league leading Braves.

The Giants won behind the seven-hit pitching of lefthander Johnny Antonelli.

Milwaukee's tallies all came on home runs, a solo smash by Joe Adcock in the second inning and a two-run blow by Hank Aaron in the sixth.

Berg Garners 3-Stroke Lead In Women's Open

MINNEAPOLIS (P) — Patty Berg as steady as a clock on the Brookview Country Club course, shot a 73 Saturday for a 54-hole total of 216 and a three-shot lead in the American Championship Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, moved into second place with a 72 and 219, and Beverly Hanson of Fargo, N.D., who had nothing but misfortune on her round, took over third with a 220.

Deadlocked at 222 were Mary Lena Paulk of Thomasville, Ga., and Joyce Ziske of Milwaukee. Tied with 223s were Kathy Cornelius of Lake Worth, Fla., Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, N.C., and Bonnie Randolph of Naples, Fla.

Hawks Owner Presents Players Diamond Rings

ST. LOUIS (P) — Owner Ben Kerner of the World Champion St. Louis Hawks basketball professionals presented his players with diamond rings Saturday.

Then Kerner recited a poem to his National Basketball Assn. champs at a country club luncheon.

It went this way:

"Remember this your lifetime through,
Tomorrow, there'll be more to do,
And failure waits for all who stay,
With some success made yesterday,
Tomorrow, you must try once more
And even harder than before."

Warn Hoodlums Not To Try To Silence Witnesses

WASHINGTON (P) — Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) made clear Saturday his Senate Rackets Committee will meet head on any attempt by Chicago gangsters to frighten subpoenaed witnesses into silence.

McClellan summoned two Chicagoans to tell in public about what he has called moves by hoodlums to silence them, and to say what it was the underworld wanted them to conceal.

The committee will resume Tuesday its hearings on alleged extortion and murder in Chicago labor rackets, and shift in following weeks to conditions in other cities.

It has heard testimony that a crime syndicate ruled by Chicago gangster Tony Accardo has been reaping rich profits by preying on the restaurant industry there. Witnesses swore that Accardo mobsters were muscling into restaurant ownership, into labor unions with which the restaurants bargained, and selling protection from labor troubles to Chicago eating places.

Accardo invoked the Fifth Amendment on all questions about the situation.

McClellan called in the FBI to help him clear up what he says were two attempts to terrorize prospective witnesses from Detroit and two from Chicago.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said the Detroiters will testify at some later hearing.

Kennedy refused to name the Detroiters or one of the Chicagoans, or give other details now. The second Chicago case—a raid by masked gunmen who put the torch to Allgaier's Fireside Restaurant after committee investigators had talked to its owner—is well known. The May 13 fire raid caused damage estimated at $750,000.

The committee has termed this a clear attempt to cow Gus Allgaier, the restaurant's owner, and keep him from testifying. Kennedy said the hoodlums apparently misjudged Allgaier's courage.

'Sin Is The Same All Over,' Graham

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Billy Graham said Saturday that sin is the same all over.

"There's just as much per square foot in the littlest town in the country as there is in New York or San Francisco," he said.

The tall North Carolina evangelist said, "Hypocrisy, pride and lies are just as bad as vice, narcotics and the more vicious forms of lawbreaking."

Graham, in Fresno for a two-day crusade, told a packed press conference: "The biggest obstacle we face is indifference. This crusade is designed to bring Christ to people. If we get them thinking and talking about Christ I feel we are about as successful as we can hope to be."

His foreign travels have convinced him, he said, that "the United States should spend considerably more on foreign aid to help people all over the world. But there should be no strings attached or obligations implied. We should help people merely for the sake of sharing our good fortune."

Army golf coach Walter Browne is the youngest of four brothers. All are golf professionals.

Baby Parade

Entries Roll In To Chairmen

Chairmen Mrs. Elmer Middendorf of this city and Mrs. Lloyd Smith of Alexander, announce entries for the Baby Parade Festival Wednesday evening, July 30, at the Morgan County Fairgrounds are rolling in.

To date children from the Jacksonville and Bluffs area are leading in the number of entries. The youngest entry so far is 17 months old. Most are in the 3 to 4 year age bracket. Age eligible are from one year through six.

There will be five cash prizes offered, in addition to each child receiving a cash gift regardless of placing in the first five. The prizes are: First, $10; Second, $7.50; Third, $5.00; Fourth, $2.50 and Fifth, $2.00.

The judges will be out of county residents. Their point system judging will follow: conduct of the child, costume and originality and theme showmanship.

No talent performance is involved. The child entered need only make appearance on the ramp before the grandstand without adult accompaniment. Pets are allowed for companionship or as addition to theme, but he child must be able to control the pet without assistance.

Entry blanks appear in this newspaper when space is available. The deadline for receiving blanks in July 25th. All entries should be mailed to: Mrs. Elmer Middendorf, 844 West Douglas avenue.

This is the first time in many years a Baby Parade has been sponsored by the Fair Association and the venture is really taking hold. There is no limit as yet to the number of entries to be accommodated but parents are urged to get blanks mailed as soon as possible.

Elaborate costumes are not necessary, instead originality and cleverness, coupled with conduct of the child, will weigh much in the decision of the judges and with the approval of the crowd being entertained before the Fair's opening night Horse Show.

Surviving are his wife and the following children: Robert Lee of Alton, Leonard, Jr., and Margaret Ann at home; one step-daughter, Claudine, of Chicago; two grandchildren and two step-grandchildren.

Also surviving are his father and two brothers, George E. of Route 5, Jacksonville, and Norman of Chicago.

Mr. Wyatt was an employee of Nesco while it was in operation and was later employed at Luke-man's garage. He was a member of the Immanuel Southern Baptist church.

The body is at the Williamson Funeral Home, where the family will meet friends from 7 to 9 p.m. Sunday.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 p.m. Monday at the funeral home. Burial will be in the White Hall cemetery. The Rev. Laverne Hicks will officiate.

KEY FIGURES OF ODD FELLOWS BANQUET

Key figures at last night's 120th birthday anniversary banquet of Illini Lodge No. 4, I.O.O.F., held at the Dunlap hotel are, left to right: Clyde McAllister, Mayor of Meredosia, recipient of a coveted 50 year Jewel for service with the fraternal order, presented by Grand Master Harry E. Burns, center.

Speaker for the evening was William R. Wilson, Grand Secretary, of Springfield, on right.

Illini Lodge No. 4, I.O.O.F., Celebrates 120th Birthday

Jacksonville members, friends and visiting brethren from other cities in the State of Illinois gathered Saturday to celebrate the 120th birthday anniversary of Illini Lodge No. 4, Independent Order of Odd Fellows. Featured highlights of the day included an open house at the IOOF temple on East State Street at 2:30 p.m. where members of the Grand Lodge of Illinois, officers and members of the Jacksonville lodge acted as hosts.

A banquet with about 100 present was held at the Dunlap hotel at 6:30 p.m. where members and guests met to pay tribute to 50-year members and hear a talk by Grand Secretary William Wilson.

Speaker Traces History

Speaker for the evening, William R. Wilson, grand secretary, traced the development of the city of Jacksonville during its early history. Illini Lodge No. 4 was chartered when the State of Illinois was just 30 years old and the city of Jacksonville only 13 years old.

"On July 21, 1828, the deep rooted seeds of fraternity were planted here by Thomas Widley, founder of Odd Fellowship in America, and just one month and one day later, Illini Lodge No. 4 became a charter member lodge of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows in Illinois."

"With the solid foundation on which Jacksonville was established, its desire to extend fraternal relations to all who would accept, to overcome the strong sentiment of opposition between its early settlers, the willingness to share its prairie lands with all classes for the sake of good human relations and its foresight of building schools of higher religious education for the need of spiritual relations has been the stimulating influence that gave Illini Lodge of Jacksonville the privilege of celebrating its 120th anniversary this day. The bonds of brotherhood are the strongest ties of men."

Mayor Robert A. DuBois extended greetings on behalf of the city to the lodge and wished the lodge "120 more years of upgrading the spiritual life of the community."

Present 50-Year Jewel

Highlighting the banquet was the presentation of a coveted 50-year Jewel, commemorating many years of faithful service to the fraternal order, to Clyde McAllister, mayor of Meredosia. The presentation was made by Grand Master Harry E. Burns.

Mr. McAllister recounted a few events in the earlier history of the Jacksonville lodge after the presentation.

J. Clark Rothwell, 609 Hardin Ave., was scheduled to receive a 50-year Jewel at the same time but was unable to attend the banquet. He is a patient at Our Saviour's hospital. The presentation will be made at a later date.

The program was opened by Claude Armstrong, noble grand, and later presided over by Elbert C. Brasel, past grand master. Rev. William J. Boston gave the invocation and benediction.

Group singing was led by Mrs. Doris Thompson accompanied at the piano by Miss Mahala McGee.

Officials of both the Odd Fellows and Rebekah orders were introduced during the program.

RESCUE WOMAN WHO LEAPED FROM BRIDGE INTO RIVER

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Mrs. Ida Lowe jumped from a bridge into the Missouri River 60 feet below Saturday. She was rescued unharmed, except for bruises, nine miles downstream 90 minutes later.

After striking the water, Mrs. Lowe, 66, grasped a log and clung to it as it was swept downstream. She was rescued by county conservation agents who were alerted by persons who saw her carried away.

AUTHORIZE WEATHER RESEARCH PROJECT

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower signed into law Saturday a bill authorizing the National Science Foundation to carry out a basic research program in weather control.

The new law will permit the foundation to make grants or contracts with public agencies in an effort to find ways to control weather conditions, particularly in areas subject to drought and floods.

ULCW Studies Communications At Bluffs Meet

The regular meeting of the United Lutheran Church Women of St. John's Lutheran church at Bluffs was held in the church basement Thursday evening, July 10, at 8:00 p.m.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. James Baird, who introduced the lesson leader of the evening, Mrs. Wilbur Westmeyer. The topic for study, "Telling the Good News—The Church's Main Job," proved most interesting. The efforts of the ULCA to spread the gospel through the three media of mass communication—press, radio and television—were presented and discussed at length.

The difference between the "captive" and "non-captive" audience in presenting the word of God was considered, and the necessity of arousing interest and inspiration in the individual, as well as presenting the message, is a vital item in the use of the three media. Appropriate hymns were sung and closed the lesson period.

During the business session, the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, and the treasurer's report presented and accepted. A bill for freight on clothing for the Lutheran World Relief was presented and approved for payment. Roll call, answered by a Bible verse containing the word "Free," numbered 11 members and two guests present.

A report was heard from the refrigerator committee, and information pertinent to the visiting committee was given. A report was also given on the home-finding society meeting in Springfield, held June 22, which drew members, along with the pastor, attended. The Triennial Conference meeting to be held in Toronto Sept. 26 through 30 was discussed, and volunteers requested to represent our group at this meeting.

The meeting closed with the Missionary Benediction, and delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Emma Berger and Mrs. Lillian Meier, the latter substituting for Mrs. Katherine Mueller.

PHILIP SCOTT IN SCIENCE ACTIVITIES AT NORTHWESTERN

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scott, formerly of Jacksonville and now of Dallas, Texas, have returned to their home after visiting his mother, Mrs. Annetta Scott of Jacksonville. They also visited other relatives in this area.

While here they took their son, Philip, to Evanston, Ill., where they entered him in the National High School Institute at Northwestern University. He is a junior representing South Oak Cliff High school of Dallas.

Philip was chosen to participate in the school of science and engineering activities for a five week course. He was awarded this honor because of his high scholastic standing and for his outstanding school and church activities.

Give Two Scott Entries Top Share-The-Fun Ratings

WINCHESTER—At the District 4-H Share-The-Fun Festival held Thursday night of this week at Pittsfield high school, two of the four Scott county entries were awarded "A" ratings and blue ribbons. Miss Judy Dolen of the Neighborhood Girls 4-H club, under the leadership of Mrs. Mulder Clark and Mrs. Geraldine McGuire, was awarded an "A" rating as mistress of ceremonies.

The members of the Winchester Workers 4-H club, under the leadership of Mrs. Virginia Norman and Mrs. Lillian Coultas, were awarded an "A" rating and were chosen to show at the Illinois State Fair on August 13.

There were over 300 4-H members participating in this event, representing Pike, Cass, Morgan, Scott, Brown, Adams, Greene and Schuyler counties, with one mistress of ceremonies and eight other numbers picked from the "A" ratings to show at the State Fair. The program consisted of vocal and instrumental musical numbers, dance and chorus numbers, novelties, skits and readings.

Others from Scott county participating were the quartet consisting of Lyndell and Roland Wallis, Tom Campbell and Larry Wade, from the Liberty Hustlers Ag club and a novelty number by the Future Livestock Producers Ag club.

Marries in Florida

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Cowhick, Jr., have returned from Jacksonville, Fla., where they attended the wedding of her son, Don Andres, to Mrs. Frances Irene Monroe. The ceremony was solemnized Sunday, June 29, at their home in the suburbs of Jacksonville, Fla., with Rev. Phil Taylor officiating.

For her wedding the bride chose a dress of pink embroidered cotton satin, with which she wore white accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Mrs. Cowhick wore a dress of light blue cotton and a white carnation corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Luke of Jacksonville, Fla., were the only attendants for the couple.

The groom is a graduate of the Winchester High School, class of 1946. He attended the Peoria Barber College and for a time was associated with the Montgomery barber shop in Winchester. For the past few years he has been in Florida, and is now with Luke's barber shop, Jacksonville, Fla.

Mrs. Andres, whose parents are not living, was formerly a telephone operator at the Naval Base near Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Andres spent their honeymoon at Winter Haven, Fla.

This Week.. at Dixon Springs

Of the livestock on the Station, sheep seem to be the topic of the day. The first week in July is a more or less critical time in management of the flock. In the first place, larger numbers of lambs arriving on the market then usually reduce the price. Second, hot weather and dried pastures slow lamb gains. Third, internal parasites have had time to finish their life cycle and show up in increasing numbers in the lambs.

So Station sheep researcher Jack Lewis says that right now is a good time to top out your lambs. Go through the lambs and pick out all those that are heavy and fat enough for marketing. Wean the rest, treat for worms and put them on clean pasture, possibly stubble or aftermath clover. Feed them some additional grain.

Lamb Show

An area 4-H lamb show was held in conjunction with the lamb pool at the Dixon Springs Experimental Station on Friday, June 27. The grand champion lamb was shown by Ellen Taylor and bought by the First National Bank of Goldconda for 34 cents a pound. The reserve champion was shown by Joe Hardin and bought by the Robbs Lumber company for 33 cents a pound. The champion pen of three lambs was shown by Jerry Hardin and purchased by the Illinois Livestock Marketing association, operators of the lamb pool, for 27 cents a pound.

Pasture Observations

Many, many times we have said that pasture clipping and rotation grazing are important to pasture life and livestock gains. But, in spite of the best intentions, all of us get too busy at other jobs to give pastures attention. Well, here is our observation: with poor clipping and grading management, clovers will stay better in a mixture with orchard grass than in a mixture with fescue.

Livestock like orchard grass and will graze it along with the clover, keeping a fair balance between the grass and clover. This is not true of fescue-livestock much prefer the clover and will graze the clover to extermination, leaving the fescue clumps to grow wantonly. Clipping is important to the productive life of both, but more important to fescue mixtures.

MRS. HARRY KILLAM FINDS SEVEN LEAF CLOVER

Mrs. Harry Killam found a seven leaf clover at her home 5 1/2 miles west of the city Thursday. A number of people find 5 and 6 leaf clovers but this is the first 7 leaf clover found to date. Mrs. Killam stated she is constantly on the look-out for four leaf clovers and has found many 5 and 6 leaf variety.

Wheat Harvest Is On - And How Much Wheat Does The Nation Need?

Congress and wheat farmers face some hard choices regarding the future of the federal wheat program, a leading farm magazine points out.

The troublesome wheat situation, in which surplus is being piled atop surplus, is the subject of the cover article, "We Are In A Mess With Our Wheat," in the July-August issue of Nation's Agriculture.

"If crop predictions prove correct at the end of this summer's harvest, there will be enough wheat in this country to take care of current export and domestic needs for two and one-third years," says AFBA President Charles B. Shuman.

"In other words, if we didn't raise a bushel of wheat in 1959, we would still have plenty to supply our markets and have an ample carryover."

Nation's Agriculture cites the fact that the burdensome wheat surplus has worsened despite operations of the acreage allotment and soil bank programs. Record U. S. exports of 1956-57 offered only temporary relief. With a world-wide wheat surplus, there is little prospect of regaining the record export levels.

Just More Wheat

Domestically, consumption of wheat for food has been practically stable for many years. Large quantities of wheat could be used as livestock feed but unrealistic price fixing has caused a decline in this use to near zero. "The plain facts are that the 55-million-acre minimum national allotment and the 15-acre marketing quota exemption are producing more wheat than we can market under present programs."

"It has been estimated that to really bring production in line with demand under the present program it would be necessary to cut the national allotment back to about 23 million acres."

"Such a cut would take more political courage than you are likely to find in Congress or among administrators."

Now In 38 States

The 15-acre exemption, under which a farmer can produce and sell wheat from 15 acres regardless of allotments, is an important loophole in the control program which has attracted considerable numbers of new wheat producers. Last year, acreage seeded to wheat was 15 acres or less on 65 per cent of all farms that grew wheat in the 36-state commercial wheat area.

Congress thus far has been unwilling to give farmers a realistic choice in wheat programs, Shuman says.

"We must either tighten the present program up so as to bring the wheat surplus under control, which means much greater government domination of wheat farmers or else let economic forces play a larger part in bringing about needed adjustments in acreage and consumption."

Four people were cited for continued support of the Illinois 4-H program at the annual meeting of the Illinois 4-H Key Club last weekend at State 4-H Memorial Camp near Monticello.

Honorary 4-H Key Club members installed at the meeting were H. H. Elder, retail operations manager, Cities Service Oil company, Chicago; George H. Hiner, Assistant State Director of Agriculture, Springfield; Anna Serf, retiring state leader of girls' 4-H Club work in Illinois; and A. F. Stephens, general agricultural agent for the Gulf, Mobile, and Ohio Railroad, St. Louis.

Regular Key Club members elected to the board of directors for 1958 include David Lyford, Rockford; Joyce Scheer, Moline; Howard Werkheiser, Kewanee; Eleanor Ann Masters, Greenfield; Ralph Poole, Washington; Sandra Rayburn, Champaign; Wayne Gruen, Greenville; Carolyn Sue Sumption, Marshall; Orilla Byars, Mt. Vernon; and Phil Jones, Richview.

Mrs. Harold Dawson, the former Viola Olson, has returned to her home in Newton, Kan., from Bethel Hospital, Newton, where she was a surgical patient. She is the sister of Miss Artie Olson of this city and daughter of Gus Olson.

Mrs. Major Gilmore is a patient in the Duncan Nursing Home in Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fitch, Pittsfield, are visiting in the home of his brother, Everett Fitch.

Mrs. Harvey Casteel will leave Monday, in company with her niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Holmes, son and daughter, Indianapolis, Ind., for a visit with Mrs. Holmes' sister, Mrs. C. G. Whitney and family in Seattle, Wash. Mrs. Whitney made her home with her aunt, Mrs. Casteel, after the death of her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Bass and son, Phillip, have returned to their home at Lake Zurich after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray De Vilbiss and others here.

Congress awarded the widow of Abraham Lincoln an annual grant of $3,000.

Illinois Farmers Outlook Letter

SUMMER MARKETING TO BE INCREASED

The recent USDA pig crop report answered farmers' questions about how much and how fast hog production is being increased. The report showed that farmers saved 59.7 million spring pigs, only 2 percent more than in 1957. This increase is little more than enough to match the increase in population.

Practically all of this small increase was in January and February farrowings. (All pigs farrowed from Dec. 1 through May are counted as spring pigs.) Farrowings in March and April were slightly less than in the previous year. These changes are a continuation of the trend toward more uniform year-round production of hogs and toward earlier farrowings.

Biggest month for farrowings was March, with 25.6 per cent of the total for the six months. In the 10 years 1947-56, April was the big month, with 31.4 per cent of the total spring farrowings.

The report indicates that market supplies during July - September will be considerably larger than last year, but that supplies during the fall may be slightly smaller.

Reports from farmers in nine leading producing states showed the number of hogs in different age groups as follows: 3 to 6 months old, 12.2 million, 17 per cent more than last year; and under 3 months old, 24.8 million head, 4 per cent less than last year.

The number of sows farrowing each month was as follows (1,000 head, with year-before figures in parentheses): December, 429 (391); January, 821 (709); February, 1,527 (1,325); March, 1,819 (2,008); April, 1,741 (1,827); May, 1,049 (1,017).

Looking ahead, farmers reported that they planned to have 5.9 million sows farrow this fall (June-November). That would be an increase of 13 per cent from last year. Allowing for the upward trend in number of pigs saved per litter, this points to a total fall pig crop of about 41.5 million head, 14 per cent more than last year.

Illinois farmers saved 3 per cent more spring pigs this year than in 1957. Other states increasing production included Missouri, 4 per cent; South Dakota, 17 per cent; Nebraska, 12 per cent; Minnesota, 6 per cent; and Wisconsin, 7 per cent. Iowa stood pat. Indiana cut back 3 per cent and Ohio, 7 per cent.

High-priced hogs and low-cost feed encourage feeding hogs to heavy weights. We have no assurance, however, that the high prices can be maintained through this summer. Consider these facts: (1) Hog marketings usually increase after July 4. (2) January-February farrowings were the largest on record - 16 per cent more than last year and 46 per cent greater than the 10-year average. (3) Market supplies of broilers will be 20 to 25 per cent larger during July - September than they were last year. (4) Cattle have been held back for about a year, and marketings may increase soon. (5) There is a lot of talk about business recovery, but unemployment is around 6 million and is the largest since before World War II. Some 10 or 12 million families must spend cautiously because of loss of wages at some time this year.

Wild Animals Main Reservoir Of Rabies

URBANA - County rabies inspectors throughout Illinois are urging hunters to have their dogs vaccinated against rabies.

Any dog may be the link in the chain that transmits rabies from animal to man. But it is particularly important that all hunting dogs be vaccinated, since the occurrence of rabies among wild life is increasing, says Dr. D. L. Kerlin, Champaign county rabies inspector.

The Champaign county rabies story is somewhat alarming, adds Dr. Kerlin. During May two dogs, one fox and one squirrel were found in Champaign county with rabies. Both dogs had bitten children, the squirrel had bitten a boy and the fox had attacked a woman.

Through cooperation of the rabies control committee and the sheriff's office, 3,200 dogs in Champaign county were vaccinated last month. More were vaccinated during the campaign than had been vaccinated all year points out Dr. Kerlin. Before 1955, over half of the 250 cases that rabies reported annually in Illinois may act as reservoirs for the disease. Particular emphasis is being placed on testing bats for rabies.

U.I. Dairy Day Set For Sept. 4

URBANA - Plans are well under way for the seventh annual Dairy Day at the University of Illinois on Thursday, Sept. 4.

G. W. Salisbury, head of the Department of Dairy Science, says that the program will be highlighted this year by exhibits in six major areas in the dairy production field. These exhibits will feature the latest in milking-handling equipment, new ways to feed and store forage and new ideas in dairy cattle feeding, housing, sterility and disease control. They will be set up at the South Lincoln Avenue dairy barn by 9 a.m. DST on Thursday.

The Two Are Intermingled

Again and again in political debate human rights are ranged against property rights as if the two were mutually exclusive.

All of us own and accumulate property in some degree or other. We regard the right to do so, and to safeguard our possessions, as among our most basic human assurances.

Those who believe most strongly that there is somehow a vast gap between human and property rights may say this is all true enough, but they are thinking of property rights as epitomized in the business corporations and other large repositories of capital.

Take an example of the seeming conflict between the two kinds of rights: The men at a factory strike for higher wages. In the course of the work stoppage, violence breaks out and damage is done to plant windows and certain other installations.

Now few would openly condone violence. But there are quite a number who think that in such a circumstance the "human rights" of the men seeking higher pay are of a vastly higher order than the "property rights" of the men operating the factory.

But is this really so?

Suppose it costs $150,000 to repair the damage. Who pays the bill, the corporation managers? Technically, yes, they do. But in fact the loss comes out of the corporation's hide, and the managers may not own any of it.

The stockholders, the real owners, are the losers.

They are human beings, too. We dare not suggest that they are humans of a different order, not entitled to the same consideration as workers. For in this day and age many, many stockholders happen also to be workers.

There is very good reason to believe that when we say property rights we are really only speaking of a certain special kind of human rights. They are not in fairness to be placed in opposition to other human rights, but in some fashion to be accommodated to them.

There would seem to be no great virtue in championing human rights over property rights. For there are probably many times when the net effect of that course is to give priority to lesser rights, and thus to do more harm than good to all the humans involved.

Hoover's Happy Reunion

There was a double fitness in the appearance of former President Herbert Hoover at the Brussels World's Fair. As the eldest of our two living ex-presidents, he was the logical choice to represent and speak for this country on the special day set aside for the United States at the exposition.

Secondly, Mr. Hoover has a special affinity for Belgium, and the Belgians for him, as result of his memorable relief services at the time of World War I.

That Belgium's affection for Mr. Hoover has not waned with the passing years was eminently clear from the fact that they chose to honor him with a "Hoover Day" observed throughout the nation.

Plainly the reunion of Mr. Hoover and the Belgian people was a happy occasion.

What's In A Name?

Nelson Rockefeller's leap into the political arena as a GOP candidate for governor of New York is a real event.

Times have changed. Until now, the name Rockefeller has been a thing to be shunned by politicians of all grades and sizes, no matter whose silks they were wearing. They saw it as the very symbol of wealth, which they do not like to be portrayed as representing.

Victor Moore, the comedian whose voice always trails off in hopeless misery, summed up the attitude in the old musical, "Louisiana Purchase," in which he played a "labor" senator visiting New Orleans. Asked if he'd like some oysters Rockefeller for lunch, he reacted in horror:

"Oysters Rockefeller? NO! I can't even go to Rockefeller Center."

But this is 1958 and politicians not only can go to Radio City but can turn to a Rockefeller for top office.

Anyway, with millionaire Governor Harriman on the Democratic side of the race, how can money be an issue?

"I think people want to laugh," says Milton Berle, "and I'm going to try to make them."

Before resuming his career as a TV regular, Uncle Miltie is resting at this desert resort. Resting in this desert resort. Resting in this desert resort. Resting in this desert resort.

"Yes, I'll be 50 this week," he confessed. "Perhaps the new TV series will reflect some of the maturity I have achieved with the years."

Otherwise, the Wednesday night half-hour will be pure Berle. He said he would try to do the same kind of thing he did during his early seasons—"some sketches, some songs, some jokes."

He corrected the impression that his return to TV was directly due to his performance on this year's Emmy awards show which enlivened an otherwise drab affair.

"It came about because of a dramatic show I did for Kraft Theater," he said. "I didn't think the show was entirely successful, but it got the highest rating the series had ever had—a 24 when they had been getting around 12."

The sponsor was thinking of dropping the dramatic series and I was asked about going on for them. It sounded good to me, so I signed with them."

Berle will occupy the first half of the old Kraft hour, followed by yet another Western, "Bat Masterson." With Jackie Gleason also returning to TV, it would appear that the comies are moving in for another stand against the bunslings and quizmasters. More power to 'em.

COST OF HAYRIDING RISES

LIVINGSTON, N.J. (AP)—The old-fashioned hayride is slowly dwindling off into history hereabouts. Both the hay and the ride are too expensive.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rousch, one of the last to offer rides, are dismantling their wagons, citing such costs as $25 to shoe a horse and $45 for a ton of hay.

They sold their four horses "because it was costing us more to feed them than to feed us," said Mrs. Rousch.

HUNGARY RECRUITS FROGMEN

BUDAPEST (AP)—Hungary has organized its first group of 10 frogmen—Including two frogwomen.

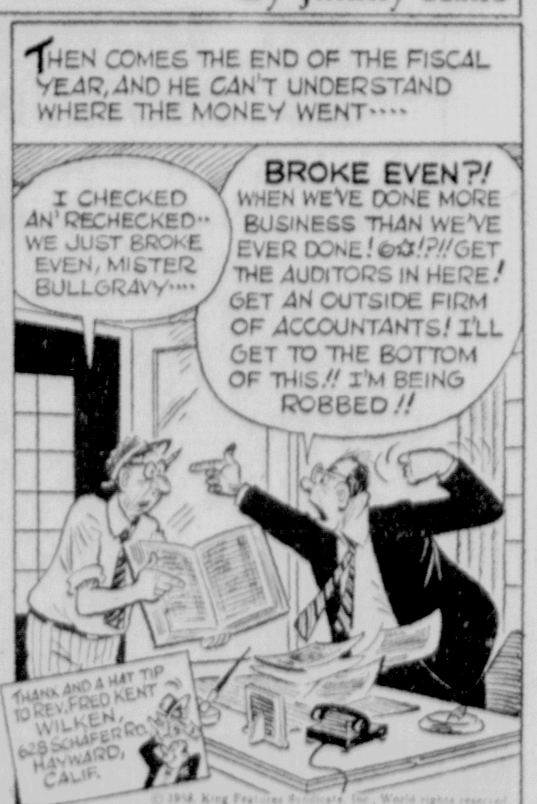

They will look into such matters as an ancient forest in the River Tisza, a Turkish fortress under the surface of the Danube near Paks in Southern Hungary, and the possibility that Roman relics may remain on the bottom of Lake Balaton.

Applicants to practice dentistry in Idaho are given practical tests of their talents at the state prison. They work on inmates' teeth.

Alaskan Addenda—Well Done—49ers—Flagging Sales—Rug Bug—Wet Wait

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN AND JERRY BENNETT
NEA Staff Correspondents

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Mafia racketeers, the Kremlin and Sherman Adams may be making the most dramatic headlines these days, but Washington party-goers rank Alaskan statehood and the recent visit of the Shah of Iran highest on the capital chit-chat barometer. For instance:

Ernest Gruening, the ex-territorial governor of Alaska and key figure in lobbying for statehood, found out that there was one Alaskan statistic he didn't know. He and Mrs. Gruening invited every person in town who had ever lived in Alaska to a big statehood celebration at his house the day after the Senate vote.

"I never dreamed there were so many people in Washington who had once lived in Alaska," he admitted.

But the turkey, ham and baked Alaskan (natch) salmon held out, and everyone had a hilarious time. Associate Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter was there, and somebody asked him if he had ever been to Alaska. "Not recently," he replied. "But I love the salmon Ernest always serves."

The Flag's future 49th star is anything but lucky for six Washington secretaries. Annexing Alaska to the United States means that the girls who worked for the Alaskan delegate and three special statehood promoters will soon be looking for new jobs.

Their bosses are closing up shop for good and heading back to Alaska to campaign. But the girls are just as enthusiastic as ever about statehood. And they might get their jobs back if there bosses are elected to Congress.

Isabel Lynne, who has been with the special three-man delegation since it first came to Washington, declares: "I wouldn't take anything for the work I've done in spite of the fact I campaigned myself out of a paycheck."

Alaska delegate to Congress, Bob Bartlett, got the following wire from Nome after the Senate vote for statehood:

"Nothing could be finer than to be a forty-niner in fifty-eight."

A Federal executive order issued in 1916 by President Woodrow Wilson forbids any government agency to replace or dispose of an American flag unless it is worn beyond use. This order is still in effect and will hold in spite of the addition of a 49th state, it has been ruled.

Thus, only replacement flags purchased by the government will have 49 stars. That still means sizeable flag purchases. Last year, Government Services Administration bought 30,000 American flags for the civilian government agencies as replacements.

The Army, which does all the flag buying for the services, last year bought 55,970 small flags for graves and 28,843 flags of various sizes for other purposes.

Anyone wanting to buy a friend's rug "to loan" to some friend in government had better get his order in early. The cost is going up. Mohammed Reza Pahlavi, Shah of Iran, revealed during his Washington visit.

It isn't the demand that's raising prices. It's Iran's new social security laws which prevents child labor and provide for higher minimum wages. His Imperial Majesty held out this promise for lobbyists, influence peddlers and other potential buyers:

"We'll try to keep the industry alive."

At the National Press Club luncheon for the Shah, he volunteered the information that there was complete freedom of speech in his country. He put it this way: "Tonsils are removed by the mouth. You can open your mouth."

Most Talkative reception line of the year was the one at a big blow-out which the Iranian Embassy threw for the Shah at the May flower Hotel. In fact, some guests insisted on chatting with the ever patient monarch for almost five minutes.

Reason for all the chatter was that a special squad of uniformed waiters kept walking up and down the long line serving champagne. By the time many of the guests finally reached the Shah, they had downed at least three drinks.

But success also will depend on the readings of the administration to cooperate when the board decides to move, and the mere existence "The Four" may help to weld a united front.

The inflationary wallop of a 10 to 12 billion dollars deficit in the government year just starting. Anderson believes it may be minimized through better scheduling of the government's spending programs. Every program starts modestly and builds up to a spending peak. To prevent the peaks from developing simultaneously, Anderson hopes it will be possible to hold some programs back while others go ahead.

In addition, the improved federal-state relationship fostered in the past year or two may be utilized, the secretary thinks, to prevent the federal government from pouring money into military or civilian projects in an area where a state is simultaneously making big public works investments. One or the other might delay its project for a year.

These are just samples of the kind of ideas which "The Four" are entertaining as they try to look beyond the recession.

The World Today

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—There is a small but influential group in Washington, known simply as "The Four," which suspects that the hardest economic battle remains to be fought—and is girding for it.

The enemy won't be recession but inflation. The signs of business upturn have been noted hopefully; it appears that a modest recovery may be under way this fall.

If so, the recovery will coincide with the start of a new era of federal deficit financing on a vast scale, and the combined pressures of rising private and government demand could generate another serious surge of inflation.

That's what "The Four" have been worrying about for some time now.

It was concern over inflation which brought the group into existence last September as an unofficial body lacking formal name or legal status.

Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson watched the value of the dollar sink to new lows month by month, and broached his idea to President Eisenhower.

The idea was simply that the officials directly concerned with money, credit and federal finance—himself and Chairman William McC. Martin Jr. of the Federal Reserve Board—should consult jointly and quite frequently with the President and his top economic advisers. The latter are Raymond J. Saulnier, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, and Gabriel Hauge, presidential assistant for economic affairs.

Eisenhower concurred. Since then he has averaged a meeting a month with the four officials.

The meetings had hardly begun when the problems of recession took priority over the problems of inflation. Spending speedups, easier money and lower interest rates were the obvious answers.

To put the brake back on—ever so gently at first to prevent a relapse—will be a more delicate job. But all of "The Four" are determined that there will be no repetition of the events that followed the 1933-34 recession. Before people realized the recession was over, the recovery blossomed into a buying binge, and an inflation that hasn't been stopped yet.

Already "The Four" are weighing the variety of ideas—just about everything short of direct wage and price controls—to keep prices from shooting the moon.

The country's success, all admit, will depend greatly on the alertness and courage of the Federal Reserve Board in pulling the credit reins at the right moment, and then feeding out no more credit than is needed to permit an orderly, sustainable growth.

But success also will depend on the readings of the administration to cooperate when the board decides to move, and the mere existence "The Four" may help to weld a united front.

Would-Be Nurse-Companion
Just Needs a Little Hustle
BY MARIE DAERR

"How do you find a job as nurse-companion?" Many of you have written that question after reading a recent column.

Some of you have added, "I have no home ties, so I could go anywhere in the country where such jobs are available."

My answer to the latter is: DON'T pack your suitcase. The job you want is just as likely to be three blocks, as 300 miles, from your front doorstep. And life will be lots simpler for you if you stay in your home town.

Some of you say you have advertised "without success" in your local newspaper. Have you let the ad run long enough? Have you written it "catchily" so it reads as though you, and you alone, are the very person who will fill the bill?

If you think you can't write a come-hither ad, ask the help of the newspaper advertising staff. Or maybe you have a friend who is clever with words. By all means, ask, and take, his advice.

Have you used your state employment or private employment agencies? If you live in a big city, you may have several that will put you on their list.

Don't neglect other job sources. Talk to the pastors in your area. They often get requests from parishioners for aid in finding just the kind of service you can offer. Maybe they will even let you put a job wanted notice in the church bulletin.

Ask your YMCA or YWCA branch if you can tack a notice on their bulletin board. Write or telephone the heads of any big clubs in your town and tell them you are looking for such a job.

Let the butcher and the baker help you. Talk to the proprietors of the grocery, department, hardware and drug stores where you trade. They see plenty of people during a day's work and chances are they will be glad to spread the word that you are available.

Above all, look at this job hunt as an adventure. That's what it is—and I hope it proves a lucky one for you.

Q—I am 68 and am considering a postretirement job that pays more than $1,000 a year. How much Social Security would I lose if I took such a job?—L. B.

A—In general you lose your right to one month's benefit check for each $80 (or fraction of $80) of earnings over $1,200 a year.

Q—I have paid into Social Security for about 18 years. I was widowed at 26. Recently I remarried. I am continuing with my job. Is it true that, on reaching retirement, I can only draw benefits on my own, or my husband's account, whichever is larger?—R. M. H.

A—That is the way the law reads.

WEEKLY BIBLE COMMENT

The 'Social Gospel'

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D., deal from him as he had learned a great deal from Jesus.

Though its use seems inevitable, because its use is so well established, I have never liked the phrase, "The Social Gospel." It seems to imply that there is a gospel that is not social, and if that is so it certainly is not the Gospel of Christ.

But how anyone could read the Parable of the Good Samaritan, not to speak of many teachings of Jesus, and His emphasis upon the Second Commandment, and suggest that the Gospel of Christ is not a social gospel is something that I cannot understand.

Yet the attacks upon the conception of a Christian social gospel have been many and widespread. Almost every effort to establish Christian social action has been met by strong opposition and the claim that the Gospel is a gospel only to individuals.

Much of such opposition has been occasioned by the effort of many advocates of the social gospel to tie up Christianity and the social gospel with particular social and legislative measures that are at least open to debate as to their inherent rightness and social effect.

To me, it seems regrettable and quite unnecessary to attempt to tie up Christianity with any economic system, or with any form of state action. There are in the Gospel as contained in the life and teaching of Jesus certain ideas, ideals, and values by which everything must be judged from a Christian standpoint.

It is right that men should bear one another's burdens, fulfilling the law of Christ—a social law—but the law of Christ means also individual responsibility and that "every man shall bear his own burden."

Only in a society where there is both mutuality and individual responsibility can there be soundness.

In theebb and flow of Christian social ideas we might well go back to Paul and learn a great deal from him.

How to Win Friends and Influence Eating: Apple Pie

BY GAYNOR MADDOX.
NEA Food and Markets Editor
Everyone seems to like apple pie. In response to many letters asking for a good recipe, we suggest the following:

Fresh Apple Pie
(One 9-inch pie or 6 servings)
Line a 9-inch pie plate with unbaked pastry and set aside while preparing apples. Peel and slice 4-5 large tart cooking apples (there should be 5 cups). Mix 1 cup sugar with 3 teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon. Add 4-5 tablespoons flour if apples are very juicy; if not, omit it. Mix the sugar mixture with apples and turn into the pastry-lined pie plate. Break 2 tablespoons butter or margarine into little pieces and put it in various places over the top. Roll the remaining pastry in a circle 1 inch thick and 10 inches in diameter. Place it over the apples. Trim the pastry about 1 inch beyond the edge of the plate. Turn the dough under and flute the edge with fingers or fork. Cut a 1-inch slash or prick the top crust with a fork to allow for the escape of steam. To help the crust to brown evenly, brush the top lightly with milk. Bake in a preheated very hot oven (450 degrees F.) 10 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate (350 degrees F.) and bake 30-40 minutes or until apples are tender when tested with a pointed knife. Remove from oven. Cool before cutting. Stuffed Green Pepper Salad (6 servings):

Combine 3 cups creamy cottage cheese with 1/3 cup minced chives, 1 cup finely grated fresh carrots, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon ground black pepper. Cut tops off 3 large green peppers. Scoop out seeds and fill with cottage cheese mixture. Wrap in foil or waxed paper. Chill overnight or until firm enough to slice. Cut into 1-inch slices. Serve on chicory or lettuce with mayonnaise or French dressing.

MONDAY'S DINNER: Cold sliced ham, creamed mustard, country fried potatoes, succotash, enriched bread, butter or margarine, sliced tomatoes, apple pie, cheese or ice cream, coffee, tea, milk.

Donna Jean Potter Of Virginia Becomes Bride Of Donald Evans, Springfield

VIRGINIA—Miss Donna Jean Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Potter of Virginia, became the bride of Donald L. Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Evans of Springfield, Saturday, June 28.

The ceremony was at Laurel Methodist church, in Springfield. Before a candlelighted altar, decorated with a profusion of palms, white gladioli and mums Rev. William Cull of Elgin, Ill., performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father.

Mrs. Eunice Haywood, organist, played a recital of wedding music and the traditional processional and recessional. She accompanied Henry George McDonald of Virginia, soloist, who sang "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was attended by her aunt, Miss Catherine L. Potter of Springfield, as maid of honor. The groom had as his best man Robert Morris of Morris, Ill., a brother-in-law.

Ushers were Peter Larsen and Richard Schryver of Springfield.

The bride's gown was fashioned of white embroidered Swiss organdy over taffeta, with a torso bodice and waist length bouffant skirt. The wide square neckline was edged with scalloped lace on the short sleeves. She wore white organdy mitts. Her blusher veil of nylon illusion was held in place by a queen's crown of seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid and baby mums.

The maid of honor wore a powder blue taffeta gown. The long shoulder bodice featured an off shoulder neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. The bouffant skirt was waist length. She wore a matching blue circlet hair braid encrusted with pearls. She carried baby pink carnations, showered.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Potter wore a powder blue lace dress and white accessories. Her corsage was pale pink baby carnations.

The groom's mother wore a gray lace dress, white accessories and a corsage of pale pink baby carnations.

Church Reception
Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. The table was decorated with white gladioli and lighted candles. The three-tiered bride's cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. William Harrison of Virginia, friend of the bride, poured the punch and coffee was served by Mrs. R. C. Yates of Virginia.

After the reception the couple left for a wedding trip through northern states. For traveling the bride wore a beige linen sheath dress with matching jacket. Her accessories were white and she wore the orchid carried off.

Her accessories were white state of the Virginia High school and Illinois Business College and is employed by the Peter Vredenburg Lumber Company in Springfield.

The groom is a graduate of the Springfield High school, Springfield Junior College and served in the United States Marine Corps. He will attend the Missouri School of Mines and Metallurgy, in Rolla, Missouri, this fall.

Guests were in attendance from Springfield, Virginia, Peoria, Chatham, Morris, Elgin, Forest Park, Browning, Decatur and Jacksonville.

Meet This American —

James Woodhouse

By Walter B. Hendrickson

Pioneer Chemist

One of the pioneer chemists of the United States was James Woodhouse, born in Philadelphia in 1770. He attended medical school at the University of Pennsylvania, one of the first in America.

Even as early as the late 18th century, Americans considered chemistry a most important science. Through it they could learn how to make use of the abundant natural resources, and so could develop American manufacturing to the point where the United States would be independent of Europe.

There were many men, then, who were studying chemistry and analyzing all kinds of substances. James Woodhouse, because he became a teacher at the University of Pennsylvania helped to prepare men for careers as chemists.

Woodhouse was a vigorous advocate of the discovery of Lavoisier, the French scientist, that combustion, or burning, is the combination of substances with oxygen on the application of heat. He argued convincingly in favor of this theory, and proved by means of numerous experiments.

This was highly important at the time, because the opposite idea, the phlogiston theory, was upheld by Joseph Priestly, an Englishman who had come to the United States, and had great prestige because he was such a staunch supporter of democracy.

In the long run, of course, the phlogiston theory, which was that there was a mysterious something in certain substances that made it possible to burn them, was discarded.

Jupiter's Moons

By Rip Barnsdall

Chapter 1: Life On Mars

A number of years had passed since the first earth expedition had landed on the planet Mars. The flight back had received a tremendous ovation when it landed at Schiaparelli, Wyoming.

Two of the original group were missing, however. They were Jim Henry and Max Bottomley, who had decided to stay on Mars to better study conditions.

Both Jim and Max were confident that the World Government on Earth would decide to colonize Mars once they read the official reports. "After all," said Dr. Wharton, "a highly intelligent race once lived on this planet, so it should have tremendous possibilities for men of earth."

The World Government followed to the word the recommendations of Jim Henry. The most important of which were that Mars should not be opened up for general colonization for at least eight years.

"The native Martians," stated Henry, "deserve to be treated fairly. If we of earth descend upon them without regard, we will be doing them a great injustice. We must not do to the Martians as was done to the American Indians during the early history of the United States."

The spirit of pioneering in space was now uppermost in people's thoughts back on earth. In school they had read and heard about the fascinating periods of earth's history when pioneers had struck out across unexplored country to make homes for their families.

Private companies began to spring up overnight. They ran ads over television advertising their wares, which they had made as attractive sounding as possible.

The World Government President, Ferdinand Grovill, told his cabinet ministers, "Now that we have shut off Mars except for scientific purposes, we should allow some sort of private enterprise to follow through on space flight. After all, we cannot expect public support forever without allowing that public to partake in some way. Perhaps we will be doing the wrong thing at this time, but we owe it to the public."

And so the private space flight companies went ahead with their advertising programs—

How To Take Care Of Pets

By Ray Broekel

Common Insects As Pets

This article deals with some of the more common insects that can be found in almost every garden or yard. Generally, keeping conditions for the ones mentioned are practically the same. Any sort of glass container such as a pint jar, or an empty pickle jar, a plastic ice-box dish or even empty cans with a lid over the top, will provide homes for the insects.

Crickets

One of the very common insects to be found is the cricket. Put a layer of soil a few inches thick on the bottom of the container. A wire screen lid placed over the top will keep the cricket from jumping out.

Crickets will eat a number of things such as water-soaked bread, small pieces of melon or other fruit, mashed potatoes, lettuce leaves, peanut butter, etc. A small bottle cap filled with water will provide drinking facilities for the cricket.

Grasshoppers

Grasshoppers are also quite easy to find. You can place a few inches thick layer of soil (growing grass in soil) on the bottom of the container, or you can just put in a layer of sawdust. If you put in soil, make sure to keep it watered.

Fruits, lettuce leaves, corn leaves, clover, etc., make the best foods for keeping grasshoppers happy. Provide a small jar lid filled with water and keep a screen wire lid on top of the container.

Walking Sticks

Walking sticks are another insect common to yards and gardens but not often seen. Requirements for walking sticks are the same as for grasshoppers, except that you should feed them the leaves off of the tree or tree they were found on or near.

One of our most interesting garden insects is the praying mantis. Keep only one of these in a container as they are cannibalistic. That is, they will eat others of their own kind if they are hungry.

Praying Mantis

Praying mantis' are best kept during the spring, summer and early fall when a food supply is available. These insects eat only living things, so you will have to catch other insects to feed them. Such live food as moths, butterflies, leafhoppers, crickets, worms, flies, bees, grasshoppers, beetles, etc., will make ideal food.

Praying mantis' are two to three inches long and are usually green, brown, or greenish-brown in color. They are harmless to human beings.

One can learn a lot by watching some of our common insects. They do not wag their tails like dogs, or purr contentedly like a kitten, but they do give you a chance to watch first-hand how they live.

By getting to know the habits of our more common insects you will become better acquainted with the life that is all around you.

BUFFALO BATHS

Plains and prairies of the American west still bear scars of buffalo wallows, formed when bison roamed the continent. The wallows provided the animals with dust baths in dry weather and mud baths when it rained.

TAUGHT THE DEAF

Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, always gave his profession as "a teacher of the deaf." He helped direct the education that enabled Helen Keller to communicate with others.

Jim's Big Surprise

By D. W. Hendrickson

Part 6: Exciting Moments
Jim's cousin Ted, who doesn't swim or do much of anything, is visiting when Jim's parents are called out of town. Jim expects a dull time but the boys are awakened by strange sounds and they rush into the dining room.

A hefty burglar with a gun in one hand was swinging a silver candlestick with the other, and kicking wildly at a small but lightning-like bundle of fury. Jim made a grab for the kicking foot and the man fell with a thud. The gun slithered across the floor and Ted grabbed it.

"Drop that candlestick and stay where you are," commanded Ted, "and no monkey business." Jim on his way to phone the police, heard Ted add, "I didn't get a marksmanship medal for nothing."

"Then call off this devil with the red hot needles in place of teeth," growled the man. Jim knew just what he meant.

Police Take Over

After telling the desk sergeant what had happened, Jim got his 22 rifle from his room and let Duke in, and when the two policemen walked in they saw a sour-faced burglar sitting on the floor faced by two armed and determined boys, one with a little white dog under one arm, the other holding a big white collie by the collar.

"Well, well. Big Time Benny! So it took a couple of kids to nail you," said one of the officers.

"Aw, they couldn't have done it if it hadn't been for the dog," Benny grumbled as he inspected his ankle.

The policeman looked at the collie. "I'll bet he almost chewed you to pieces."

"Yes, sir, Duke could do that," said Jim, "but it was my cousin Ted's little dog Pluff that got him."

Bite-and-Run Dog

"Yeah," the burglar agreed glumly. "I mighta been able to bean the big dog with the candlestick, but I couldn't even see the little one. He's a bite-and-run dog."

"And my cousin is a champion sharp-shooter, too," Jim looked at Ted proudly.

"You evidently can't judge the power by the size," the policeman said, looking at Ted and Pluff in amazement.

"You sure can't," Jim agreed, grinning.

Later, when the officers had taken Big Time Benny away, and the boys were crawling back into their beds once more, Jim turned to Ted. "Say, did you really mean it when you said you had a medal for marksmanship?"

"Yes. You see I had lots of time to practice since they won't let me play ball and stuff on account of my heart."

"Why don't people tell me these things," thought Ted, and aloud he said, "You did all right tonight, bad heart or not."

"Well, I guess we all do the best we can with what we have," Ted rubbed his dog's ears. "Pluff!

About The Atom

By Joseph A. Smith

Part 9: The Atom Mystery

In our last article we discussed atom smashers where particles shot into a circular apparatus travel around it several million times and build up to an energy often as high as 2½ billion volts; then are allowed to strike a target atom.

While one such machine in the U.S.A. exists that is capable of generating 25 billion volts of energy, the Russians claim to have one capable of 40 billion volts! If the amount of energy is great enough, MESON particles of energy are formed.

After man was able to tell what was inside a particular atom, he next wanted to know more about what held it together. Since most atoms contained like charges one would expect the like charges to repel one another (as we said once before). Still, some force overcame this pressure to break up the atom. One theory claims that the neutrons in each atom serve to "glue" it together. Man now can make accurate measurements of the weights of the many different isotopes of any given element.

It was noticed that when the weight of the fast particle and target nucleus were added together the total was NOT the same as the total weight of the nuclear pieces left after splitting. Some weight was either gained or lost.

does, don't you, girl?" "I'll say she does," agreed Jim. "Just like her master."

Fifty years before the coming of the nuclear age Albert Einstein developed his Theory of Relativity. In it he proposed that the weight of an object depended on how fast it was moving, and was changeable increasing in weight as its speed became greater. When the speed of a particle was increased to 186,000 miles per second this increase in weight was apparent.

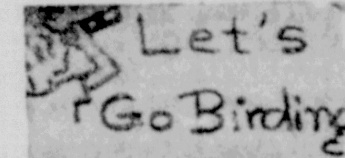

He further stated that "Matter can be changed into energy, and energy can be changed into matter." He meant that when certain conditions exist part of the weight of an object will be replaced by energy; on the other hand, energy has been changed into the form of matter.

His now famous formula E equals MC squared tells us this. In it E means Energy, M equals the amount of matter that appears or disappears, and C is the scientific name for the speed of light.

We might therefore read his formula saying Energy equals the amount of matter appearing or disappearing times the speed of light this quantity squared. Since this speed is very great, even a tiny amount of matter which is made to disappear will give off energy.

This slight loss in total weight (after a collision) we spoke of earlier was evidence of the change of matter into energy.

You can read more about this in "All About the Atom" by Ira Freeman.

THE PREACHER

By Emma Mae Leonhard

In our last article we promised to discuss the Red-eyed Vireo this Sunday, and we shall keep our promise.

Although we emphasized the fact that the Warbling Vireo, the subject for our last article, was plentiful and sang all summer long, the Red-eyed Vireo is usually more plentiful and sings more continuously and monotonously.

The Red-eyed is quite different from the Warbling Vireo in looks and song. Whereas the latter bird is the grayer and palest vireo, and very nondescript, the Red-eyed has a clear white line over the eye bordered with black, but the red eye itself is of little help in field identification. Its head is gray, and its under parts are a cleaner white than are those of any other kind of vireo.

The song of the Red-eyed Vireo has earned the singer the name of the Preacher or Preacher Bird. It is a monotonous series of short, abrupt phrases of robin-like quality, but it is not the connected warble of the Robin. Each phrase consists of from two to six notes rapidly run together, and ends sometimes with an upward inflection and at other times with a downward inflection.

Some listeners hear statements and questions in the song, which might go something like this: "Here I am! Here I am! Don't you see me? Don't you see me? Here I sit! Here I sit! Don't you hear me? Don't you hear me? Here I sit!" And on and on the Preacher continues.

Amusing Antics
If you succeed in finding him high in the tree, you might witness an amusing performance. As he sings on, he may sometimes face one way and then another as a preacher often does in addressing his congregation. At other times he will sit still and chant straight ahead.

At any position, he sits in the same place for several minutes at a time. His sermon goes on and on. Perhaps you may think that it is sometimes too long. Probably some of the early Puritan children felt so too when their parents and the preacher required them to listen to an hour or one-hour-and-a-half sermon on Sunday morning.

The Red-eyed Vireo preaches to all the out of doors, but probably only a few persons listen to him. Wherever trees grow, there he may have his chapel. Richard H. Pough estimates that there is probably, on the average, a pair of Red-eyes for every acre of woodland within their range. This summer I would also estimate the same average for the Warbling Vireos, at least considering the number I hear as I dive along the streets of Jacksonville.

Listen for both the warbler and the preacher; you may hear both.

The Maltese Kitten

By Mrs. Otto Dorr

Part 2: Long Trip Ends

The wagon traveled up a long winding lane and into a shady driveway, the lady heard it and came quickly to the road.

The driver gently carried the crate into a quiet shed then went on his way, but the boys stayed to help lift the slatted box top and reach for the new pet hiding in a dark corner.

A saucer of milk now waited for it but at first the kitten would only look at these strange new friends. At length it took one little taste of milk then slowly lapped a bit more.

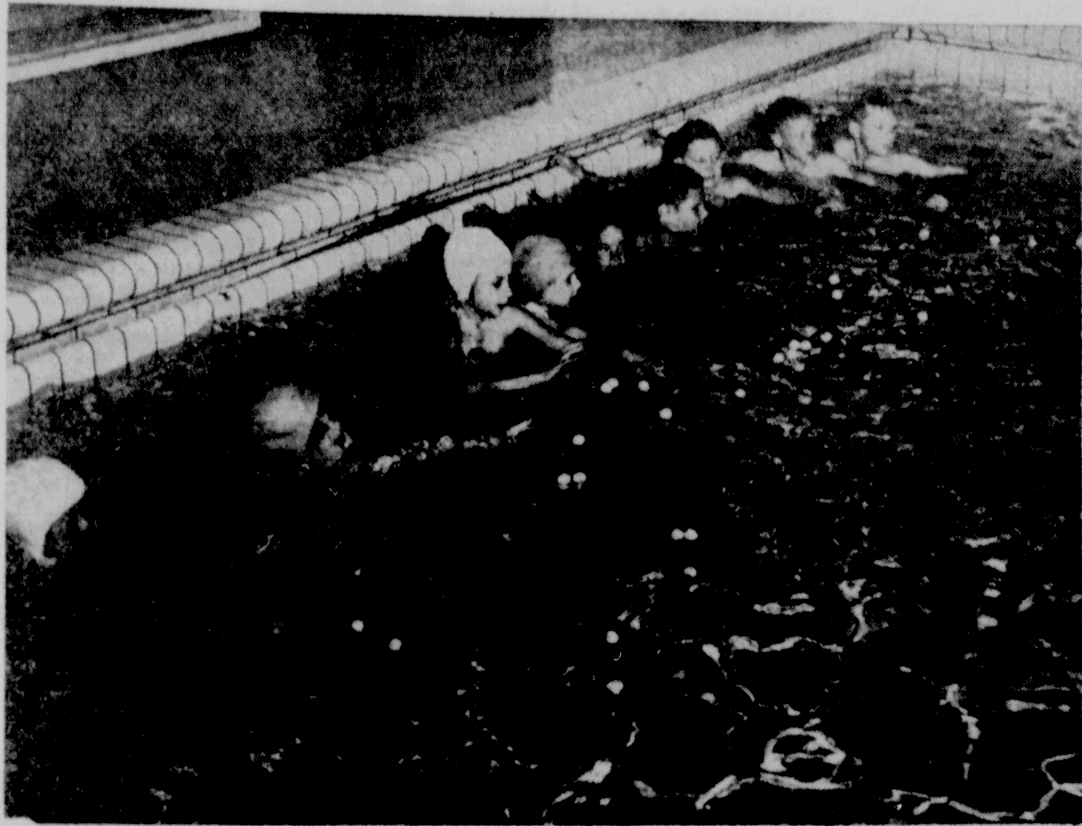

The next day the kitten's friends came to see it again. It had brushed its soft fur clean with its quick pink tongue.

Soon it came to know them and purred when they stroked that strange blue grey fur. Now it played in the yard where other children could climb the hillside lane to watch it.

Best of all "Yankee" grew into a silky blue Maltese cat.

The Junior Page Visits A Swimming Class

The class includes boys and girls from five to ten years of age who meet Wednesday and Friday mornings for swimming instruction by Juhe Bradish and Brenda Wagner.

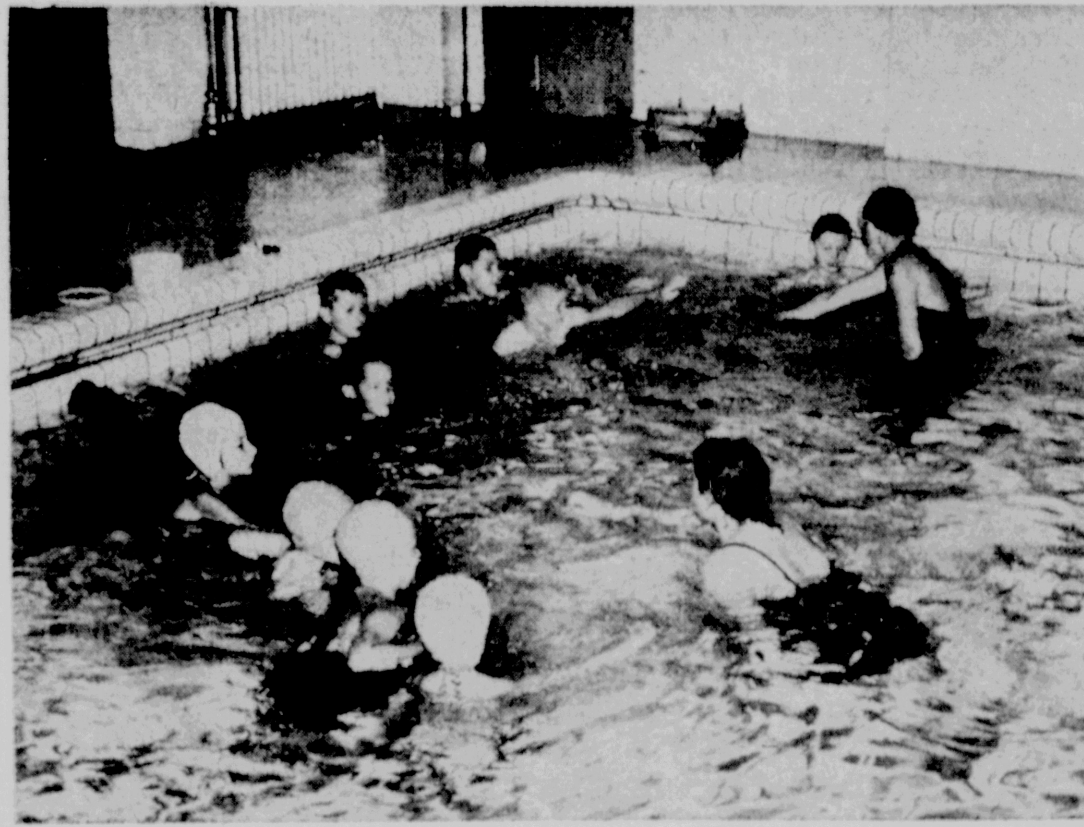

Here the class resembles floating beach balls, but the spray sent up by their vigorous kicking shows they're due to appear again in a moment.

Splashing around instructor Brenda Wagner are Tommy Sorrells, Tommy Murgatroyd, Steve Hardin, Garry Church and Douglas Von Seymour coming forward, while Phyllis Marshall, Pam Angel, Ann Von Seymour and Linda McLoman go the other direction.

Instructors June Bradish and Brenda Wagner show Phyllis Marshall, Pam Angel, Tom Sorrells, Tom Murgatroyd, Steve Hardin, Douglas Von Seymour, Ann Von Seymour, Garry Church and Linda McLoman just how to make the proper stroke.

The group puts its lessons into use as their instructors give added suggestions.

Cole-Jefferson Vows Heard At Pleasant Hill

WINCHESTER — Miss Betty Ann Jefferson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Jefferson of Alsey and Russell Don Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garr Cole of Exeter were united in marriage June 21st at the Pleasant Hill Baptist church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. William Martin of White Hall at eight o'clock in the evening.

MR. AND MRS. RUSSELL COLE

Red and white glads and palms adorned the church altar. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attended by Miss Wanda Mae Plemons of Springfield, Joseph Plemons attended the bridegroom.

The bride wore a white taffeta conventional length dress with a small white hat with veiling. Her accessories were white and her flowers red carnations at the shoulder.

The bride's attendant wore blue with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

For the past four and one-half years Mrs. Cole has been employed in the drivers license bureau in Springfield. Mr. Cole is employed in Chicago.

The bride's mother wore white linen with white accessories and a corsage of red carnations.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. A three tiered wedding cake centered the serving table. The cake — as topped with a miniature bride and groom, and had been baked and decorated by the bride's mother.

Fruit punch, tinted mints and nutmeats were also served. Misses Sophie and Virginia Schwab of Mason City cut and served cake and Jennie Sue Clark of Newman poured punch.

Attending the wedding and reception, other than members of the immediate families, were the eight brothers and two sisters and sisters-in-law of the bride. Included were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Day of Manchester; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Blackburn, Roodhouse and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barnett, Esther and Irene Barnett, Mrs. Kate Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barnett, Bluffs.

Mrs. Lindie Schaefer and Nanner and Bobby Manchester; Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Doss, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Doss, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Gilmore and daughter of near Alsey.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sipes and four children and three grandchildren of Alsey; Charles Robinson, Gladys Carter, Springfield; Misses Bonnie and Virginia Schwab, Mason City and Jennie Sue Clark of Newman.

The Rev. and Mrs. Will Martin and family of White Hall.

After a brief honeymoon the couple will take up residence in Chicago.

For outdoor cooks: Roast wooden skewers in cold water before using them to impale meat, poultry, fish, vegetables or fruit to be cooked over the charcoal fire.

LIVE AT ROODHOUSE

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Mathews

ROODHOUSE — Evalyn Lucille Disney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leverett Benner and Robert Clinton Mathews, son of Mrs. Arthur Kessinger of White Hall and William Mathews, Cottage Hill, were united in marriage Sunday, July 6th. The afternoon ceremony was performed at the Emmanuel Baptist church with the Reverend Ollie Phillips officiating.

Garden flowers and palms adorned the altar. Before the ceremony Mrs. Walter Richogian accompanied the soloist, Miss Carolyn Evans, for two numbers, "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was attended by Miss Mary Ellen Dawdy and William Crain, South Roxana, brother-in-law, accompanied the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a pale blue and white nylon sheer over net with inserts of imported lace. The fitted bodice was sleeveless and fashioned with a V neckline at front and back. The skirt, waist length, was very full and worn over hoops. She wore a shoulder length veil and short white mits. With a white Bible she carried blue daisies and a white orchid.

Max Dawdy wore pale yellow cotton, street length, made with fitted top and full skirt. A large white picture hat with white accessories completed her costume. She carried a nosegay of daisies.

The bride's mother wore a dusty rose mesh dress with white accessories and the groom's mother chose pink voile with white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

A reception in the basement of the church followed the ceremony. Guests were served from a four tiered wedding cake centering the serving table appointed with garden flowers, candles and white wedding bells.

Mrs. William Crain served punch and Mrs. Ralph Benner cut and served cake. Mrs. Dale Hammond registered guests and Miss Joan McVey of Taylorville and Mrs. Audrey J. Clinton, a cousin of the bride, were in charge of the gifts.

When the couple left for a short wedding trip the bride was wearing a fitted white street dress with the orchid from her wedding bouquet. Mr. and Mrs. Mathews are making their home at 108 East Clay in Roodhouse. The bride graduated from Roodhouse high school in 1937 and the groom in 1931.

Children thru ten may be photographed at the special low rates and groups of children, too, by paying the $1.95 plus $1 for each additional child.

DON'T HESITATE — COME DOWN TODAY

No appointment is needed any afternoon between the hours of 1:30 and 5 P.M. Appointments can be arranged for any other time — mornings and evenings included — by phoning 5-5418. Dates for the contest are July 7 thru August 16. No sittings made July 21 thru 25th and August 9 thru 12th.

NO GIMMICKS, NO HIGH PRESSURE

This is as honest a contest as we can possibly make it. PRIZES ARE PAID to the lucky winners. Whether you make a purchase of additional pictures or not — has absolutely nothing to do with the judges' decisions. We have never had to high pressure a customer yet to make a living — we never expect to in the future.

ROTARY PROVIDES PICNIC TABLES

Jacksonville Rotary members worked in the wooded majesty of Oak Grove in the Lake Jacksonville area Thursday to assemble picnic tables. These tables are substantial affairs, made of pressure-treated lumber bound together by cadmium-aluminum bolts, and painted green.

They should last for years. And the people of this area, if they feel picnic-minded, are invited to begin using them—although the water and sanitary facilities that Rotary will build later haven't been installed.

Rotary is paying for the Oak Grove picnic area improvement primarily with funds gotten from the operation of its Big Eli wheel at Nichols Park. The club plans to build 60 tables and about as many outdoor furnaces at Oak Grove before fall.

Receipts at the ferris wheel project have been good. On Sunday, July 6, the wheel brought in $178. The best day, so far, was on May 25 when the wheel was manned by Elmer Lukeman, James Dunlap, E. H. Garlich and Eldon Oyler. That day the wheel earned $203.25.

Workers, of course, must be fed and this photograph shows Bob Linebaugh, 7, as the junior chef in charge of barbecuing four prime beef rounds. He has a water gun to douse the flames caused when fat from the beef dropped into the glowing charcoal. Watching him are Robert J. Birnbaum, who was in charge of the cooking, and Dr. Robert R. Hartman.

Mrs. Patterson's Family Attends Potluck Dinner

CONCORD—The family of Mrs. Minerva Patterson met in Concord Sunday and enjoyed a potluck dinner at noon.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ebert Doyel and son, Bill, from Phoenix, Ariz.; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Patterson and sons, Howard and Charles, Tuscola, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Patterson and Mrs. Lela Newby, Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Don McLaughlin and sons, Jim, Tom and Dick, Winchester, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Smith, Galesburg; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith and son, Jimmie, M. O. Smith, Concord; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Waits and family, Carlin, Boone, Billie and Kenny, Mrs. Shirley Runkel and Tony Fairfield, Jacksonville and the hostess, Mr. and Mrs. John Christen.

White Hall High Class Of 1938 Has Reunion

The Class of 38 held its first reunion at the high school, with families of the members as guests. Thirty-one members of the original class of '38, and one former teacher, were present.

Four members of the class are deceased: Bob Brickey, who passed away several years ago; Lloyd Bryant, Vincent Thomas, and Edward Fenity, who were killed in action during World War II.

Don Lakin presided at the business meeting. The pledge of allegiance was led by Boy Scout Kallal, son of Martha Rowe-Kallal, and invocation was delivered by Rev. Ruth Nicklin, pastor of the local First Christian church. Each member present answered roll call by giving a brief personal account of the past 20 years. Letters were read from several members who were unable to attend.

Members who served on the arrangements committee were Betty Ross-Lakin and Don Lakin, Murrayville; Lura Farber-Reno, Roodhouse.

Dale Black, Frances Dawson-Stone, Ruth Schütz-Tribble and Gaylord Vandaveer, all of White Hall.

Assisting with the refreshments were Virginia Love-Daniels, Baltimore, Maryland; and Ruby Rigg-Bowman, Hillview.

Besides the aforementioned, the following members were present: June Fair-Bushnell, Carrollton; Norman Robert Goodall, Topeka; Ida Mae Hammon-Gregory, Winchester; Maxine Hatcher-Cumby, Patterson; Catherine Hitch-Mears, Sioux Falls, South Dakota.

Roscoe LeRoy Horton, Milan; Austin Kennedy, Canton, Missouri; Faye Lorton-Overby, East St. Louis.

Marjorie Moulton-Hodges, Biloxi, Mississippi; Harold Orten, Jacksonville; Helen M. Raines-Raglow, Bethel, Kansas; Martha Rowe-Kallal, Jerseyville; Helen Scott-Goode, Greenfield.

Maxaline Spencer-Prather, Roodhouse; William Thibaud, Belle Glade, Florida; Louise Woodard-Whorton, Wrights; June Bell-Wyatt, Clarence Dawdy, Jr., Marjorie Long-Bateman.

David Lorton, Carroll Shive and Helen Stuart-Wood, all of White Hall. The former teacher present was Royal Hodges, Biloxi, Mississippi.

Letters were read from: Helen Cherry-Slatery, San Mateo, California; Dr. William Dossel, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, North Carolina; Basil Gilmore, Jr., Caseyville.

Clara Hicks-Pennington, West Friendship, Maryland; Keith Howard, Springfield; Dr. Margaret Kinsman-Woodhouse, Coastal Carolina College, Conway, South Carolina.

Loretta McLaren-Yereb, La Grange Park, Sarah Murray, Manchester; Wayne Nichols, Long Beach, California.

Ray Norris and Arabel Roodhouse-Norris, Phoenix, Arizona; Russell Orten, Westminster, Colorado; Max Powell, Plattsburgh, New York.

George Powers Quincy, Edward Ridings, Miami, Florida; Hal Smith, Livonia, Michigan; Clarke Tankersley, Bastrop, Louisiana; and Laurence Sweetin, Pekin.

The class member living the farthest away is Bette Baker-Watson of Saudi Arabia.

It was decided to have another reunion in 1963. Betty Ross-Lakin was selected to serve as chairman of the arrangements committee. Group pictures were then taken of the class members. After a tour of the new addition to the high school, a social hour was enjoyed renewing old acquaintances.

4 Nortonville Youths Leave For 2 Weeks Training

NORTONVILLE—Jim Claussin, Jim Wells, Rolland Miner and Gene Thompson left Sunday morning for Camp McCoy, Wis., where they will be in Army reserve training for two weeks.

Mrs. Herbert Clayton attended a post-nuptial shower in honor of Mrs. Dick Clayton at the Scottville M. E. church Tuesday evening.

Prizes were awarded to William Thibaud, member attending from the farthest distance; Martha Rowe-Kallal, member present with the largest family (five children); Marjorie Long-Bateman, member present married the longest; and Helen Stuart-Wood, member present married the shortest length of time. Refreshments of cake and punch were served.

Budget minder: Some good cooks like to use two-thirds rendered beef fat and one-third bacon fat for frying or browning meat and poultry.

LITERBERRY AID'S CHICKEN FRY BIG SUCCESS

Mrs. Edna Mallicoat and Mrs. Blanche Thomas were hostesses to the Literberry Baptist Aid held recently in the church basement. Mrs. Gladys Ginder called the meeting to order with the flag pledge and the song "America." Devotions were given by Mrs. Freda Mallicoat, with a poem and prayer following. A report of the chicken fry was given by Mrs. Hazel Scribner.

The president thanked the faithful committee, Mrs. Viola Thompson, chairman, Mrs. Chris Mallicoat, Mrs. Irene Jones, Mrs. Margaret Long and Mrs. Carline McGinnis and all who helped in any way to make this supper a success.

Mrs. Lela Daniels was program chairman for the evening, the topic being "Some Historic Gardens in the U. S." Mrs. Daniels read a poem, "Gardens of Peace." Roll Call was answered by giving a clever garden hint.

The hostess served ice cream, cup cakes, candies and mints and a social good time was enjoyed by all. Guests present were Mrs. Lark Buck, Mrs. Luther Kennedy, Mary Kaye McGinnis and Marilyn Masten.

Chapin Belles Prepare For Centennial

As Chapin nears its Centennial Celebration the women and girls take great pride in preparing their costumes for such a time honored event. Last week at the Verne Smith home southwest of Chapin a number of women and young girls donned costumes for a preview appearance. It was also the same day Mrs. Smith was entertaining her bridge club and the attendance was most impressive.

The top row of pictures show: Left, Mrs. Lloyd Anderson, standing left and Mrs. Frank Redshaw of Winchester, the former Barbara Smith of Chapin, at right, seated is Mrs. L. P. Sheppard. Top center, Mrs. William Vanter sits in a 'ladies chair' embroidering a piece for an antique style quilt for the Centennial. Top Right, the younger set not only enjoys the dress-up affair but looks charming in their costumes as evidenced in the top row picture on the steps of the Smith home. At the top left is Janet Schumacher. Reading left to right from the bottom step up, Mary Rae Lakamp, Carol Anderson, Karen Smith and Jackie Sheppard.

Elect Officers At Greenfield American Legion

GREENFIELD—Clarence Tucey was elected commander at a meeting of the American Legion Tuesday night.

Others elected were Russell Shade, senior vice commander; Hal Plogger, junior vice commander; Richard Powell, adjutant; Warren Cook, public relations chairman.

Charles Burroughs, chaplain; Carl Neil, finance officer; Richard Cole, child welfare; Dr. E. G. deQuevedo, health officer; J. W. Chambers, historian; William Meng, Boy Scout chairman; and Kenneth Edwards, sergeant-at-arms.

Announcement was made of the meeting of the Greene County Post in White Hall Tuesday night. Officers will be elected at this time. Gary Melvin of Greenfield is commander of the county organization.

Greenfield Women Entertain Aid

GREENFIELD — Mrs. Frank Greer and Mrs. Lee Witt were hostesses at the July meeting of the Philaetha Class of the First Baptist church in the Greenfield home. Miss Pearl Bernes was program narrator.

Mrs. Russell Morrow and sons, Chuck and Gordon, who accompanied Mrs. William Mitchell and children of Carlville to Camp McCoy, Wis., have returned home. Russell Morrow, Donald Andrews, Finice Dewey, Cletus Roth and James Thaxton are among those receiving reserve training at Camp McCoy. Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Douglas and children of Clinton have been spending the weekend with Mrs. Douglas' mother, Mrs. L. C. Tindick. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Douglas, also of Clinton, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ford.

Mrs. Wayne Pule of Pacific, Mo., is the guest of Mrs. Maurice Bowman and family.

Mrs. Lillian Spah of North Collins, N. Y., is spending several weeks with her sister, Mrs. Carrie Houlihan, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. Windell Handing and children have returned home after a vacation trip to Florida where they visited his brothers, who reside near Palm Beach.

ANNOUNCE SERVICES FOR SUNDAY MORNING AT GREENE CHURCHES

GREENFIELD — Starting Sunday, July 20, an early service at 8 a.m. will be held at the Greenfield Methodist church in addition to the regular morning worship at 10:45 a.m. This schedule will continue for the remainder of the summer.

The morning worship at the Rockbridge Methodist church will continue on the regular schedule at 9:30 a.m. and at Rubicon church at 8:30 p.m. The Rev. Ronald Bula is pastor of the three churches. The Rev. Bula has announced his sermon topic at the services Sunday will be "Must Christ Be Present for Healing."

The midweek prayer service will take place at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Rockbridge church.

Sermon theme at the morning worship at the First Baptist church Sunday will be "And Then The Harvest," and at the 8 p.m. service the pastor, the Rev. William G. Webber, will speak on the subject, "Jehovah—My Deliverer."

The Baptist Youth Fellowship groups, which have discontinued regular meetings during the summer, will meet this Sunday and the time will be announced by the church secretary Sunday morning. Midweek prayer service will be held at the Baptist church at 8 p.m. Wednesday and the Rev. Webber will be in charge of the service at the Cedar Knoll Nursing Home at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

McKENZIE FAMILY VISITS RELATIVES IN PATTERSON

PATTERSON — Mrs. Doris McKenzie and daughter, Sue, and son, Robert, of Pleasant Ridge, Mich., who are spending the week with her father, Basil Kennedy of White Hall, were Wednesday overnight guests of her aunt, Mrs. Harold Wilkinson, and grand-father, Charles Cooper, Mr. Cooper accompanied her to White Hall and spent the day in the Kennedy home.

Mrs. Ora McCoil and daughter, Jewell, of Wood River, who were here Sunday afternoon to attend funeral services for Mrs. Gertrude Springgale, visited with Mrs. Nona Odum and her daughter, Mrs. Marilyn McKinney of Urbana.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Forrester of Barrow called in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ashlock Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shackelford of Carrollton visited Saturday with her mother, Mrs. Effie House.

Mrs. Ewell Arnold of Jacksonville visited Wednesday morning with her mother, Mrs. Alma Dawdy. Evening visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Willard Rigg of White Hall.

Golf, according to some historians of the sport, was first played in Holland and not in Scotland where it is, more or less, the national game.

TOWN TAMER

By FRANK CRUBER

XXIII

ROSSER said evenly, "I would like a horse."

Without hesitation, Leach replied, "Of course, Mr. Rosser."

Rosser was aware of the "Mister," but let it pass. Five minutes later he was riding out of Great Plains.

The horse under Rosser was a good one, but it was not Alexander. Rosser forced himself to think of something he had heard years ago: no man should become attached to a horse or a dog. A horse was a means of transportation, a dog should be used to guard property. They should never become pets or friends.

And no man, Rosser told himself, should become too attached to another person.

Well, perhaps there could be exceptions. People who lived in civilized communities, who were engaged in normal pursuits of life. Men who worked for a living with their hands, who had wives, families and homes.

Not men who were employed as town tammers.

No man who was a town tamer had a right to think of a future life, of a woman.

Not a woman like Carol Gramman, or . . . Susan Tavenner.

The sun flashed on metal, at the edge of the timber. Rosser, by instinct alone, threw himself sideways. The whine of a bullet reached his ears before the bark of the rifle, a split second later. Rosser's gun was in his hands but even as he pulled the trigger he knew that the range was too great for a revolver, that the other man had a rifle, and thus the advantage.

Bent low over the saddle, with most of his body on the right side, Indian fashion, Rosser sent the horse into a terrific gallop paralleling the timber.

From under the horse's neck, Rosser saw the small puff of smoke as the hidden rifleman fired a second time. The bullet missed the back of the horse by a fraction of an inch.

Rosser turned the horse, head on for the trees, thus offering a smaller target to the rifleman.

It caused the man to lose his nerve. Instead of firing a third time he clambered onto a horse and burst into the open, away from Rosser.

Rosser shot erect in the saddle, for he knew that the rifleman's accuracy, shooting backwards from a galloping horse, would be negligible. It would be a straight pursuit, a ride down.

BUT that, Rosser knew within moments, was not to be. The animal under him was an ordinary one, a livery stable for-hire hack.

The horse ahead was a range animal, used by a rider accustomed to hard and swift rides. Rosser kept on for another 100 yards merely to force the rider ahead to continue his fight, but then he pulled up the already heaving animal.

Rosser was drawing the noose about Rosser. He knew of the latter's land, knew that he came out to it and had staked out an assassin. What happened here would not have to be explained. Especially if there was no body to explain away.

Rosser, from here on, would be contained within the confines of Great Plains. He rode back into the town.

Joe Leach was not in the stable when he dismounted. The hostler came to take the horse.

"Be a dollar," he said.

Rosser gave the man a dollar, clapped the horse on the flank and went out upon the street.

He started for the hotel, changed his mind and strolled to the railroad depot. The last stragglers were moving slowly into the depot, where they received their pay. Rosser glanced inside, saw Susan counting money, and shaking his head, turned away.

BY three o'clock in the afternoon, 50 per cent of the newly paid railroad workers were drunk.

Another 25 per cent could not be classified as "drunk," for they still possessed powers of locomotion. Perhaps 10 per cent of the remainder had vast capacities for whiskey and were still engaged in putting it away.

Less than 5 per cent of the railroad men had not taken a single drink. They were the rare few that are found everywhere, teetotalers, or men who sent their pay home to families in the East.

That left another 10 per cent who drank, but were cautious about it.

The trouble started among these 10 per cent. Most of them were gamblers and they drank carefully, perhaps, for that reason. They wanted their faculties unimpaired. Even in a crowd of a dozen there are troublemakers. Among 112 men there are bound to be at least 10 troublemakers.

One of these knocked over a faro table in Ken Rud's saloon. He was knocked unconscious by a blow on the head dealt by Rud's lookout. Two of his friends, who came to his assistance, suffered scalp lacerations and assorted bruises before they were dragged out to the alley and thrown down within a few feet of a couple of plain drunks.

In the Pleasure Palace, another troublemaker grabbed up Guy Tavenner's faro box and smashed it open, revealing certain hidden mechanisms that were standard for many faro dealers, but were frowned upon by players.

Tavenner shot the troublemaker through the right arm. The man had only one friend with him, and this man was clubbed by Sim Atkins with the long barrel of his frontier model. When he recovered consciousness he found himself on the ground, in the alley.

WATER PROBLEM

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—One of the biggest problems for firemen at the Gallia Street station here is, ironically, water.

It's in the station's goldfish pond and it creates a problem because of what goes into it. Firemen say the most frequent visitors are (1) high school students pushed in by companions, (2) cats trying to get the goldfish, and (3) larger—and hungrier—fish put in by pranksters.

Two boys, exploring a cave near Ontario, Canada, found several hundred hibernating bats, hanging from the walls in clusters. Some of the bats had been banded, indicating they had stopped over somewhere else while en route to their Ontario hideout.
